Six Hospitalized By Area Mishap

Six persons were hospitalized as the result of a car-truck collision Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. at the 'Y' intersection on Route 8, a quarter-mile south of Route 30 in Hancock County.

A Burgettstown family of four was among the injured—the driver of the car, Donald Lyons, 29, who is "fair" with lacerations and contusions of the forehead and left knee. His wife, Sheryl Lyons, listed "fairly good" with lacerations of the forehead, wounds of the scalp, abrasions of the right eye and contusions of the chest, knees and right foot; two Lyons children, listed as "satisfactory," Debra, 2, with lacerations of the chin, and James, 16 months, a possible concussion.

The driver of the truck, William R. Cox Jr. of Lisbon RD 3, is "fair" with a neck strain and contusions of the spine. A passenger in the truck, Diana Baker of Lisbon RD 5, is "satisfactory" with contusions of the left upper thigh, neck strain and contusions of the forehead.

According to Hancock County deputies, Lyons was traveling south on Route 8 and apparently did not heed a stop sign, colliding with the truck, which was headed north.

The investigation is incomplete. No citations have been issued as yet.

The injured were taken to City Hospital by the Lynn Ambulance Service.

Hancock deputies investigated another accident at 1:41 a.m. today on Route 8 north of the Clover Club. A car driven by Richard Staley, 46, of New Manchester went off the road, across the highway and hit a hillside as he was traveling north on Route 8.

Staley was treated at Weirton General Hospital for abrasions of the knee and lacerations of the lower lip.

Year-Round Program Eyed

Wellsville Council Sets Vote On Recreation Levy

Wellsville Council Tuesday night agreed to submit a half-mill levy in the November general election for a year-round recreation program.

Council also increased the penalty for tampering with parking meters, and discussed the use of a city tract as a site for a new industry.

After hearing a plea by Mrs. Helen Welch, member of the Hammond Park Commission, for funds for a year-round recreational program for the park and the city playgrounds, Council ordered in legislation to place a one - half mill levy for two years on the November ballot.

Mrs. Welch stated that young people are at loose ends in the summer, and the nly recreation in the winter is the school program.

"I sit on my front porch and see young people going up and down the streets aimlessly. We're letting them grow up like 'Topsy'. We don't provide supervised play," she stated.

SHE ALSO explained that an application for a 5-point program amounting to $131,000 has been turned down by the state because it was submitted too late. The commission can apply again next spring.

The program submitted included an estimated $8,000 for a caretaker, $12,000 for resurfacing two miles of the Hammond Park Rd., $3,500 for a hardtop skating rink in the winter for ice skating or for a tennis court in the summer, $104,500 for a swimming pool, and $3,000 to provide underground cable to light the park and supply other outlets.

Mrs. Welch pointed out that a half - mill levy would provide $5,500 with which a director could be hired to set up and supervise a program. She added, "An investment in the form of a long - time bond issue would be an investment in the future of Wellsville. There has to be a vision beyond what you and I would enjoy".

COUNCILMAN Paul Todd asked why the playgrounds were closed at 6 instead of being open until 9 p.m. which is curfew time. Mrs. Welch replied this was due to lack of funds.

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi informed her that $300 was in the budget for the summer program to be used for supervision of the playgrounds. Councilman Glenn Mathess said that $1,500 had been allocated for Hammond Park which was to be matched by the Title I program of the school. Mrs. Welch said she was unaware of the allocations, but the commission would now make use of the money.

Present at the meeting with Mrs. Welch were other members of the Hammond Park Commission and of the Playground Commission.

CHARLES DONALDSON, representative of the Chamber of Commerce, asked Council to consider whether the 13th St. property is available for industry and determine whether it is willing to offer the site to a processing firm for location there.

He said two men had contacted the Chamber of Commerce about purchasing or leasing the city property on which to build a factory which would initially employ 25 or 30 and would possibly expand.

Fulbright's Renominated In Arkansas

War Critic Faces Another Stern Test In Fall Election

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright won renomination in Arkansas' primaries Tuesday against three Democratic foes who urged voters to wrest the office from him because of his stand on the Vietnam war.

Facing his sternest campaign test in 24 years, Fulbright received about 53 per cent of the vote, enough to save him from a runoff but short of the 65 per cent he predicted he would receive.

With 2,548 of 2,659 precincts reported, Fulbright had 202,024 votes, Jim Johnson, 122,072, Bobby K. Hayes, a flooring manufacturer from Calico Rock, 46,701 and Foster Johnson, a music publisher from Little Rock, 10,952.

Cited By Opponents

His opponents accused the Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman of giving aid and comfort to the enemy because of his outspoken opposition to U.S. involvement in the war.

During an intensive two-month campaign, Fulbright told voters his opposition to the war was aimed at "stopping the killing of our men and to bring them home to their families where they belong." He was a constant critic of President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Fulbright, 63, who emphasized his senatorial seniority, faces another test in the Nov. 5 general election against Charles T. Bernard, 40, of Earle, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Bernard, father of five, farms and operates a dry cleaning business. His only public service came as a city alderman.

Rockefeller Renominated

Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, as expected, easily won renomination over Sidney C. Roberts of Little Rock, an unemployed salesman making his first political race.

Rockefeller, the state's first GOP chief executive since Reconstruction, indicated that Bernard would have the all-out backing of his organization. The drive to give the state its first Republican senator in 100 years follows by two years Rockefeller's own triumph which helped Rep. John Paul Hammerschmit become the first Arkansas Republican congressman in a century.

Russell E. Parsons said Tuesday night he will not decide on the plea for the 24-year-old Jordanian until he receives reports today from another psychiatric examination.

Sirhan is charged with shooting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy June 5. He is also charged with five counts of assault with intent to commit murder stemming from the wounding of bystanders in the kitchen of the Ambassador Hotel where Kennedy was fatally wounded.

Steelworkers Approve New Three-Year Pact

Will Bring 90 Cents To $1 Increase

Agreement Given Barely Day Before Strike Deadline

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union has wrapped up its richest contract —a billion-dollar-plus guarantee of labor peace for the next three years.

Hammered out in a month of secret negotiations, it was narrowly approved over strident objections Tuesday night, barely a day before a strike deadline at the end of the old agreement.

U.S. Steel Makes Changes On Prices

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The U.S. Steel Corp. announced today changes in its tin mill product prices — increasing some and decreasing others—only hours after agreement was reached on a new steel industry labor contract.

U.S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer and often the pacemaker in domestic steel prices, said the new prices will take effect Oct. 1 and will remain in effect until April 1, 1969.

It will add between 90 cents and a dollar an hour to the wages and benefits of the nation's 450,000 steelworkers. First estimates calculated the package as an increase of 6.5 per cent or better in each of the three years.

The big question now is: What will happen to the steel industry, which has insisted that a 6 per cent annual hike in labor costs would wipe out two-thirds of its profits and put some companies out of business?

Steel executives, who said repeatedly during the winter that price increases would be necessary after the new labor contract, now are refusing to answer questions.

For the first time in years, some companies have been cutting prices to try to combat foreign steel, which sells for $25 to $40 a ton less than domestic

Aid Plan Seen Help To Gain Crew Release

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved an amendment to its foreign aid bill which sponsors say could help gain the release of the USS Pueblo's crew, but which critics term "a cruel hoax ... silly and meaningless."

The amendment was added by a 43-29 vote to the pending $1.94-billion bill Tuesday.

It would withdraw, until North Korea releases the 82 crewmen seized last January, presidential authority to make exceptions to an existing law barring U.S. aid to Communist nations.

The President can authorize such aid if he thinks it vital to U.S. security, if the recipient nation is not controlled "by an international Communist conspiracy" and if the aid would spur the receiver toward independence from the Communist bloc.

The aid authorization has been cut more than $1 billion below President Johnson's requests.

Proposals to restore some of the funds for aid to underdeveloped countries were given little chance of success in today's session in the face of the current economy drive in Congress.

Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., sponsored the Pueblo amendment. He said the State Department had done nothing thus far to obtain release of the crewmen "except ask for their return."

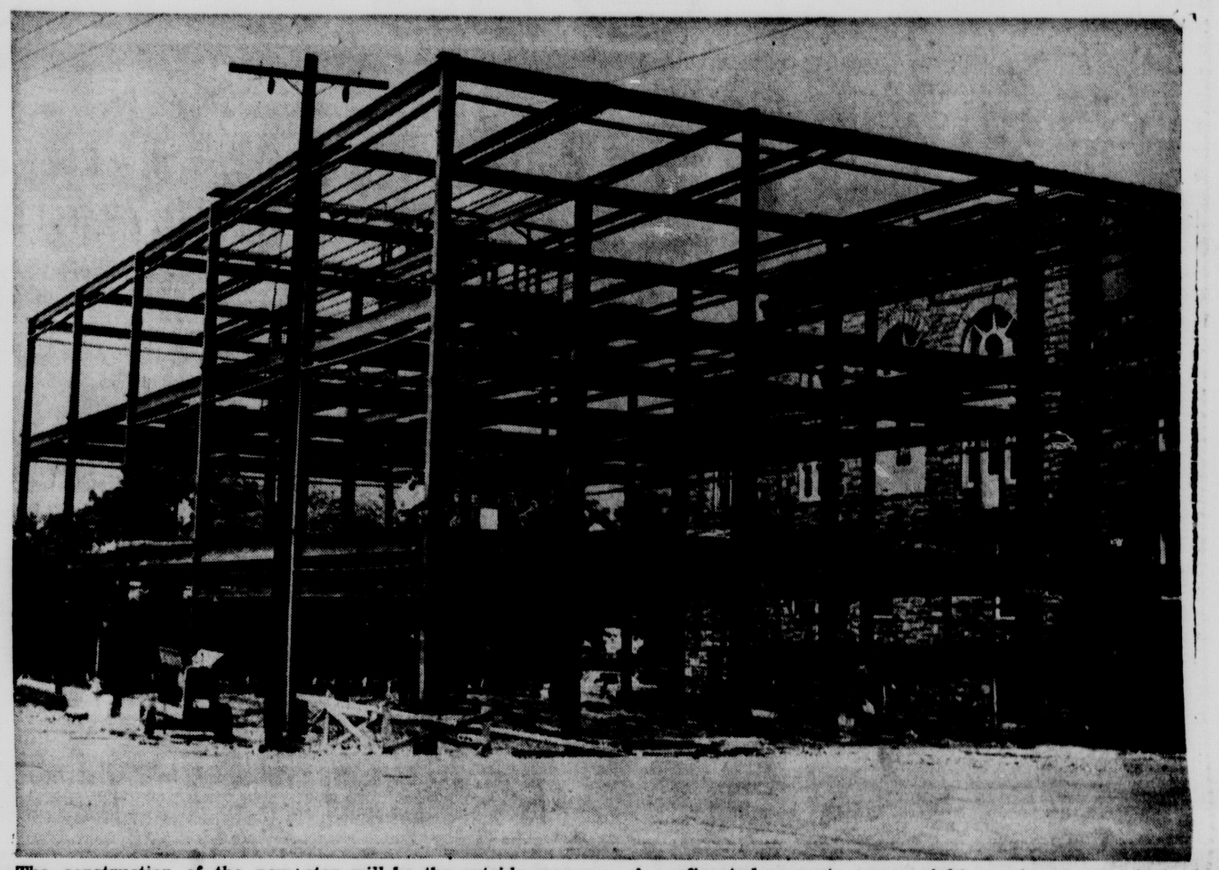
New Jail In Hancock Takes Form



The construction of the new $427,000 Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland is progressing on schedule, with completion due in early May 1969, according to Jack Evans, president of the Hancock County Court of Commissioners.

The three-story structure is being built by the Harry W. Trushel Construction Co. of Weirton. Val Curtis and Associates, a Toledo architect firm, were the designers.

The construction company this week finished erecting the steel structure beams. The work required a week. The next step will be the outside masonry work, which will include the facing of brick and glass. After this is completed, the roof will be installed.

LOCATED on the first floor will be the sheriff's office, the deputies' office, a squad room, an interrogation room, a waiting room, a psychiatric examination room and a locker and shower room. Two other rooms, designed to be offices, also will be located on the first floor. The use of these rooms has not been designated at the present time.

A confiscated property room, a mechanics room, a receiving room and a photo lab and dark room will also be located on the first floor. A four-car garage will enable the deputies to drive the cruisers directly into the building to unload prisoners and take them to the "hold room," also on the first floor.

Although the average occupancy of the Hancock Jail at most times is 9 or 10 prisoners, a maximum of 40 may be lodged on the second floor of the new jail, including women and juveniles.

Space has been provided for eight maximum security prisoners, 16 regular prisoners, 8 women and 10 boys.

2 Contrasting Calls Voiced For Platform

Reagan, Lindsay Suggest Plans For Republican Planks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two Republican stars—Ronald Reagan and John V. Lindsay—descended on GOP platform writers today with contrasting calls for 1968 party planks.

For the California governor, whose hat is in the presidential ring at least as his state's favorite son candidate, the accent lay on firm defense against communism abroad and sound finances and law and order at home.

"About one issue there should be no confusion," Reagan said. "Prevent the expansion of communist power. It is time to tell friend and foe alike: we are in Vietnam because it is in our national interest to be there."

And "here at home," he said, "we must recover the will necessary to make our streets safe, our cities free from violence and our campuses centers for learning rather than for outrage and insurection."

Stress On Reforms

For the New York mayor, who says he's for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and not himself as president, the stress was on reforms to cure city ills and poverty at home and on flexible diplomacy abroad.

"We can begin by writing a vigorous platform that affirms the humane and financial commitment described by the Riot Commission; a commitment that this (Johnson) administration has scorned," he said.

"It is time to make good the promise of American democracy to all citizens."

On Vietnam, Lindsay said "the Republican party should assume forthright leadership of

Petitions Prepared

Realtors Will Bid For Vote On Tax

The Columbiana County and East Liverpool boards of Realtors are preparing petitions for a countywide vote on a proposed 2-mill tax on real estate transfers.

County commissioners voted last Thursday at Lisbon to impose the tax, effective Sept. 1, to raise money for operating expenses. They mentioned legislature - approved salary increases for elected officials, the burden of hospitalization insurance given employes and the costs of additional services.

MEMBERS of the two boards will circulate the referendum petitions which will require 2,897 signatures — 10 per cent of the county vote for governor at the last election for governor.

The proposed tax amounts to 20 cents per $100 or any fraction thereof of the value of the property and is payable by the owner at time of sale.

Based on current market values and volume of sales, the tax would bring in approximately $42,000 annually — $21,000 per mill.

The tax is in addition to a 1-mill realty transfer tax initiated by the state Jan. 1, returns from which go to the county general fund.

A federal tax of $1.10 per $1,000 valuation on real estate transfers was withdrawn last Dec. 31. The commissioners proposed a 3-mill tax, in addition to the 1-mill placed by the state, but trimmed it to 2 mills when realtors, builders and financers stated objections at two public hearings.

The realtors have 30 days from July 25 to file the petitions with the county auditor. A verified copy of the petition will be filed with the auditor before circulation begins.

IF THE realtors get the required number of signatures, they can delay collection of the tax until a vote at the general election in November 1969. It is too late to get the question on the ballot for Nov. 5 and state law does not provide for a vote on such a resolution at the May Primary election except in even - numbered years.

Realtors Will Bid For Vote On Tax

The Columbiana County and East Liverpool boards of Realtors are preparing petitions for a countywide vote on a proposed 2-mill tax on real estate transfers.

County commissioners voted last Thursday at Lisbon to impose the tax, effective Sept. 1, to raise money for operating expenses. They mentioned legislature - approved salary increases for elected officials, the burden of hospitalization insurance given employes and the costs of additional services.

MEMBERS of the two boards will circulate the referendum petitions which will require 2,897 signatures — 10 per cent of the county vote for governor at the last election for governor.

The proposed tax amounts to 20 cents per $100 or any fraction thereof of the value of the property and is payable by the owner at time of sale.

Based on current market values and volume of sales, the tax would bring in approximately $42,000 annually — $21,000 per mill.

The tax is in addition to a 1-mill realty transfer tax initiated by the state Jan. 1, returns from which go to the county general fund.

A federal tax of $1.10 per $1,000 valuation on real estate transfers was withdrawn last Dec. 31. The commissioners proposed a 3-mill tax, in addition to the 1-mill placed by the state, but trimmed it to 2 mills when realtors, builders and financers stated objections at two public hearings.

The realtors have 30 days from July 25 to file the petitions with the county auditor. A verified copy of the petition will be filed with the auditor before circulation begins.

IF THE realtors get the required number of signatures, they can delay collection of the tax until a vote at the general election in November 1969. It is too late to get the question on the ballot for Nov. 5 and state law does not provide for a vote on such a resolution at the May Primary election except in even - numbered years.

Rusk's Views Attacked By Hanoi's Aide

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam today denounced press conference statements by Secretary of State Dean Rusk as new evidence of "the obduracy of U.S. aggressive ruling circles" in pursuing a "policy of war and aggression."

Speaking in the 15th session of the Paris peace talks, Ambassador Ha Van Lau also charged that "the U.S. government has told lies" in asserting North Vietnam has committed aggression against South Vietnam and in "boasting of victories" when, he said, it is being defeated in the war in Vietnam.

Rusk called on North Vietnam at a news conference in Washington Tuesday to say what it

Crucial Talks Described As 'Promising'

'Optimistic Air' Reported At Czech, Soviet Conference

PRAGUE (AP) — One of Czechoslovakia's leading Communist reformers reported today that the crucial talks between the Soviet Politburo and the Czechoslovak party Presidium are taking a "promising course."

"The atmosphere is optimistic," said National Assembly Chairman Josef Smrkovsky in Rude Pravo, the Czechoslovak party newspaper.

The leaders of the two parties met for the third day today to the martial accompaniment of record Soviet military maneuvers. The talks continued at least one day longer than expected as the Soviets sought to develop evidence of discord among the Czechoslovaks.

Talks between the top-ranking leaders of the two parties, which had been expected to end Tuesday, were extended after the Soviets insisted that each member of both delegations have a chance to state his per-

Thieves Given Help

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — So many thieves entered Norman Leach's service station through a rear window that he got tired of paying $2.50 each time to replace the glass. Leach substituted a piece of cardboard with this message: "For easy entrance, push here."

the cause of ending this unwanted war on the other side of the world."

And U.S. diplomacy, he said, should recognize that in a changing world, relations with Russians and Chinese are not "fixed forever in an unalterable pattern."

Reagan and Lindsay spoke in separate, prepared statements as the Republican Platform Committee neared the end of open hearings on the party's policy document for this campaign year.

On Thursday the group plans to start closed plank-writing sessions amid indications that despite some disputes here and there the drafters can agree on a platform acceptable to any of the candidetes.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell of New York, a key Rockefeller backer on the committee, said "obviously if they turn back to the 19th century in the platform there will be a fight." But he did not think such a battle would develop.

Reagan said he was not getting into specifics, which sometimes cause conroversy. "I have intentionally talked today in some generalities because I believe our party should be bound by principles, not just details," he said.

Both Reagan and Lindsay—who were separated in their scheduled morning appearances by an intervening foreign policy witness, former Ambassador to Mexico Robert C. Hill—joined in stiff assaults on the Democrats.

Reagan accused the Johnson and Kennedy administrations of weakness in foreign affairs, of allowing U.S. military might to slip, of squandering of federal dollars and allowing riots and insurrection.

"These are not the hallmarks of a great society; but they are the heritage of the Democrat years," he said.

Lindsay charged the administration with failing to acknowledge "the inflammatory division in our society" and showing "little sympathy for the condition of the ghetoes where violence and hatred are bred."

"And, once again, the excuse was the war," he said, "a war that drains our resources for the professed purpose of creating democracy in the villages of Southeast Asia when we have not been able to make democracy work in the shadows of our own skyscrapers."

The youthful New York mayor set forth a five-point domestic program after saying crime "will not be solved by simplistic cries for law and order" and "the root cause of most crime and civil disorder is the poverty that grips over 30 million of our citizens."

He proposed more responsive local government, business ownership by Negroes in black communities, tax reforms to plug loopholes favoring the rich, junking of the present welfare system in favor of one that provides more incentives and changing the draft to a lottery system.

The Republicans should give the next president clear mandates, he said, to end the Vietnam war, halt the spread of violence at home, overcome poverty and make the American ideal come true.

Meanwhile, Reagan said: "The peace and security of the world depends on the fiscal and economic stability and the defense potential of the United States.

"Only when we increase the effectiveness of our allied forces in Vietnam, only when political and economic pressures are brought to bear in the world arena, can we have productive peace talks.

"Our goal must never be less than an honorable peace—one which refuses to hand over South Vietnam—and Southeast Asia—to the Communists."

On the domestic front, he said, "We must reject the idea that every time a law is broken, society is guilty rather than the lawbreaker. It is time to restore the American precept that each individual is accountable for his actions.

"The answer to poverty is jobs—not welfare, not handouts, but jobs.

"Small bands of revolutionaries—egged on by subversive agitators—plan to take over, or cripple, our institutions of higher learning. It is time to move against these destructive dissidents; it is time to say: 'Obey the rules or get out.'"

The committee had only one further big-name Republican witness on its docket before beginning closed sessions. He was Michigan Gov. George Romney, due Thursday.

Romney has bowed out of the presidential race. Rockefeller and Richard M. Nixon chose not to testify in person.

sonal views on the liberalization program launched by the Czechoslovak party's new leaders.

The Soviets presumably hoped to draw out dissident members of the 11-man Czechoslovak party Presidium attending the conference that began Monday in the tiny farming village of Cierna, in Slovakia one mile from the Russian border.

The Russian Politburo delegation, headed by party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, is reported to have demanded a reversal of Czechoslovakia's new course and the right to station Soviet or other Communist bloc troops on Czechoslovak territory.

Three members of the Czechoslovak delegation who are considered possible opponents of party chief Alexander Dubcek's reformist course are Vasil Bilak, chief of the Slovak Communist party; Oldrich Svestka, editor-in-chief of the party newspaper Rude Pravo, and economist Drahomir Kolder. However, pro-Dubcek sources said these three had swung firmly behind Dubcek because of the widespread popular support for him and the threats of Soviet military intervention.

The meeting Tuesday was described by Tas, the Soviet news agency, as having "passed in an atmosphere of frankness and comradeship." The Czechoslovak news agency, CTK, also said the talks continued "in an atmosphere of comradely frankness."

In Communist terminology, "frankness" is understood to mean differences of opinion. The coupling with 'comradeship" was taken to mean that despite disagreement, there were no threats of drastic action at the meeting.

Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda, the silver-haired World War II commander on whom the Russians bestowed a "Hero of the Soviet Union" medal, was reported to have assured the Soviet leaders Tuesday that Czechoslovakia would remain loyal to Moscow in the Communist alliance. Svoboda is considered to be held in high esteem by the Soviet Communist leaders.

While the Moscow and Prague leaders talked, Russian troops continued to hold maneuvers along Czechoslovakia's frontiers with the Soviet Ukraine, Poland and East Germany, and a large Soviet force lingered in Slovakia, delaying their withdrawal after Warsaw Pact maneuvers last month.

In London, Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart was reported to have reminded the Soviet Union that Britain opposes any Russian intervention in Czechoslovakia. Informed sources said the warning, the first such by a Western government—was given Tueday to Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovsky. The Russian asked for the meeting, possibly as an aftermath to the "hands off Czechoslovakia" speech Stewart made in the House of Commons July 18.

Boswell, at 35 the youngest candidate and a strong advocate to revamp the 94-year-old state constitution, and Mrs. Johnson, the first woman to seek the governorship in Arkansas, appeared headed for a down-to-the-wire battle for the No. 2 spot. Mrs. Johnson is Jim Johnson's wife.

Bill Alexander of Osceola, an attorney, led the field in the 1st Congressional District Democratic primary but also faced a runoff.

Foreign Aid Under Attack

The old bugaboo, foreign aid, again is the subject of congressional debate.

The Senate plans to vote on the $1.94-billion bill by the end of the week when Congress will recess for the political conventions.

John Sparkman, acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has testified the foreign aid request—lowest in history—cannot be reduced further without jeopardizing the entire foreign policy of the United States.

There are those who take issue with Sen. Sparkman, and with good reason.

THE RECORD is full of examples, of U.S. blundering in the foreign aid field. Waste, corruption and fuzzy-thinking incidents have given the whole foreign aid program a permanent taint.

The image of a benevolent Uncle Sam distributing dollars to solve the problems of nations around the world has worked against pro-aid forces.

So far as foreign policy is concerned, the United States has been supporting a formidable aid program to spur development which is a help to the American economy and to maintain influence in strategic areas of the world.

The sad truth is the American foreign aid program is, for the most part, an abject failure.

Between 1952 and 1965, the United States pumped $1.2 billion into Egypt. The figure probably would have been higher but it cooled off from time to time as President Gamal Abdel Nasser made overtures to the Soviet Union.

During this same period when the United States was trying to win friends and influence people in Egypt, the Russians poured $1.8 billion into President Nasser's land.

The United States, deviating from its foreign policy, eventually folded its hand and left the Middle East pot to the Russians.

So many examples of foreign policy foolishness are staring this nation in the face, it gets tiresome reiterating them.

So what can be done to make foreign aid an effective international diplomatic lever and to make sure funds needed for domestic programs are not being piped into foreign countries?

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in 1963, appointed a study group, headed by Gen. Lucas D. Clay, to take a look at the foreign aid situation and make recommendations for tightening up the program.

One of the criticisms leveled at foreign aid by the committee was that the United States was "attempting too much for too many and that a higher quality and reduced quantity of our diffused aid effort in certain countries could accomplish more."

The committee proposed that aid not be extended if it "simply postpones the inevitable day of financial and national reckoning" of the recipient nation; if it were being used to establish "government-owned industrial and commercial enterprises which compete with existing private endeavors and in situations "inconsistent with our beliefs, democratic tradition and knowledge of economic organization and consequences."

In short, the panel was suggesting American taxpayer money be spent more wisely and more consistently with realistic goals.

The Big Mouthed Bug

Tri-state area residents may not realize it, but they are on the border of a battle being fought against the westward spread of the destructive gypsy moth.

A Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture aide reports the Keystone state is the last line of defense in this war against the moth which can defoliate entire forests.

The insect has already chomped its way from New England through eastern New York, New Jersey and northeastern Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania may be able to stop the westward advance with a control program which includes aerial spraying of infested areas.

However, this spraying has caused a controversy that has brought about hearings to determine whether the pesticide is harmful to natural resources. It is claimed by some the chemicals may kill fish and game, and that the "balance of nature" will provide for curbs upon the moth

We are uncertain if the balance of nature have not been totally unbalanced by man's housing, highways and various hungers, but we hope that Pennsylvania will be able to halt the moth before it invades western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

Our forest lands have already been too greatly reduced by fires and timber cutting without being diminished further by a big-mouthed bug.

'Repeaters' In Crime Statistics

With calls for action to halt the rapid rise in crime and violence coming from many sources throughout the nation, the statistics relating to repeat offenders should be carefully studied.

Police officers from cities with populations in excess of a million have said that less than a thousand repeaters account for most of the serious crime in their communities.

A POLICE OFFICIAL in one metropolitan community predicted with assurance that if a few hundred men in his city were put behind bars permanently, the instances of criminal behavior would drop dramatically.

In city after city and state after state, examples supporting this belief are recorded.

One typical case will serve to illustrate the point:

A 67-year-old widow was beaten and murdered in California in 1966 by a convicted rapist who was free on bond while awaiting trial on another rape charge. The man had a history of vicious assaults and sex crimes which began in 1960 when he raped a mentally-retarded girl.

A PSYCHIATRIST found him to be a sexual psychopath and he was briefly confined to a mental institution, being released prior to the murder of the widow. His history is one of light sentences, parole and probation.

In the hue and cry for law enforcement, it would seem logical to give special consideration to suggestions that persistent repeaters should not be eligible for parole until rehabilitation techniques have been greatly improved, that from having so much time to commit more their bond requirements should be stiffer and that criminal cases should be brought to trial more quickly to prevent the guilty offenders crimes while waiting.

The Abe Fortas Issue

The issue of Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court will not be considered again for six weeks and both sides are glad for the break.

Final disposition of the issue still is a matter of speculation, but the sometimes bitter Senate hearings have clouded the early optimism of Mr. Fortas' supporters.

BOTH SIDES still feel victory will be theirs, but agree the decision will be close.

The antiFortas faction was small at the beginning of the hearing sessions but picked up considerably through the seven days of debate and speech making.

Chief Justice Earl Warren's press conference statement that he would not retire if Justice Fortas appointment was rejected provided new ammunitions for senators charging President Johnson with manipulating the court to preserve its liberal nature.

By the time the hearings shifted into high gear, they had turned into a full review of Supreme Court decisions, charges of "cronyism" against President and the system of appointments to the court.

Much has been made of the fact Justice Fortas served as an adviser to President Johnson on critical issues while a member of the court. Critics say this is a mockery of the separation-of-powers safeguards.

The big ado made by southern segregationists about the liberal rulings by the Supreme Court has been disregarded by many senators but enough antiFortas issues were raised to make his backers uncomfortable.

NO ONE is willing to prognosticate on how the six-week recess and two national political conventions will affect the controversial question, but they will have an influence.

It is certain that regardless of whether the nomination of Justice Fortas is confirmed or turned down, some attempts will be made to revise the method of selecting justices and there will be reaffirmation of the separation-of-powers principal supported by the Constitution.

Statistics That Speak

The danger that is a permanent part of our streets and highways has been pointed out many times and many ways.

There is even one school of thought that so much has been said about the subject that some citizens no longer react to new cautioning.

Others feel those who pay attention to the message need no further reminders and those who have ignored warnings so far will continue to do the same in the future.

Nevertheless, we believe in a policy of continuing public exposure in the life-and-death matter in the hope that someone will benefit.

Therefore, some new statistics reported by the Ohio Highway Safety Department deserve mention.

A survey of mishaps in Ohio highways in 1967 produced these facts:

Ohio averaged one accident every 2½ minutes.

One driver out of 17 was involved in a reportable mishap.

Someone was injured every 4½ minutes.

Every three hours and 27 minutes, someone was killed.

Additional comment would be superfluous.

VICTOR RIESEL

Europeans Say LBJ May Run

LONDON — In continental capitals the most knowledgeable and sophisticared chancelleries believe that this fall the final conflict will be fought in America between Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon.

Victor Riesel

Few, indeed, across the seas believe that the Democratic nomination will go to Vice President Hubert Humphrey, whom the European and Middle Eastern labor and Socialist leaders know so well, so personally and so intimately.

These analysts who are powerful in so many governments believe their own intelligence services and their embassay political reports which say that at the last minute Hubert Humphrey will turn to the vast throng in the Chicago stadium and, with sufficient delegates to get himself named, eloquently renominate Lyndon Johnson for president.

I've heard this from men whom it would be amateurish understatement to describe as merely well-informed. I've heard this all the way from the valley of Armageddon below an old King Solomon cavalry fort to a private dining room in the House of Commons here.

I've heard this from national leaders who have spent long hours with Hubert Humphrey in the past—men who have invited him to their labor and Socialist intellectual retreats for years.

THESE MEN REASON that the world is going conservative. They therefore believe that their old colleague "Hubert" would be defeated by Richard Nixon just as labor men and Social Democrats are being beaten all the way from Wales to Tokyo.

They do not believe that President Johnson would sit by and see his own Democratic Party wiped out by former Vice President Nixon. And when I retort that there just is no sign that Mr. Johnson even in the inner recesses of the White House is planning such a move, they come up with what they say is absolute evidence that at least while Robert Kennedy was alive, the President had intended to accept the nomination at the last moment.

The evidence is imputed to an old and intimate friend and professional associate of President Johnson. This friend visited here last May. He is indeed internationally known and a power in the U.S.

During his two-week visit to London he talked confidentially to influential figures here. It should be pointed out quickly that the visitor is as much responsible for Hubert Humphrey's presidential bid as anyone, perhaps more so.

In his discussions here the influential American visitor spoke warmly, though somewhat critically privately, of Mr. Humphrey.

The visitor, who often is in daily contact with the White House and sometimes more frquently, said that the Vice President was a crusading liberal, certainly, a devoted labor man, and a tireless campaigner. But for effective infighting he is too garrulous.

THESE TALKS OCCURRED during the battle with Robert Kennedy when it appeared that the late Senator had powerful rank-and-file labor support as well as that of the youth and black power people.

During these conversations the visitor declared flatly that President Johnson was absolutely ready to move into the Democratic convention and take the nomination for himself if it were necessary to stop Bob Kennedy.

Now, tragedy has made it certain that Hubert Humphrey can get the nomination, uncontested except by a vocal but politically weak McCarthy bloc.

Then what?

The same criticism of Hubert Humphrey lingers on.

Dick Nixon, the new, new Nixon, an easy and relaxed campaigner, it is believed, can beat Mr. Humphrey regardless of what the professional polling of 1,500 to 1,600 voters out of some 80 million now indicates.

This is just not the era for Mr. Humphrey's kind of "Social Democracy." Everywhere, Social Democrats are being beaten. They have lost heavily in Scandinavia to conservatives. They have lost heavily in France to the conservatives. They have lost in Italy to left-wing extremists.

But nowhere are they losing so badly as here in Britain where Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Hubert Humphrey often are described in the togetherness of fish and chips.

LABOR AND SOCIALIST leaders have lost their mystique and charisma even in the holiest of a Fabian Socialist grounds. London has been in the hands of the conservatives (about 5 to 1 in the county council) for some years. Districst which have been labor for 35 to 40 years are being lost.

It's the gap. Even here labor has gone suburbia. It is now the middle class. Some of it pickets the champions of the colored people.

As in the states, the gap has widened between labor's leaders and the rank and file, between the Labor Party leaders and the "working class." The people are voting conservative.

It all has its parallel in America. Here in London as well as in Rome and other capitals, there is certainty that Mr. Nixon would devastate Mr. Humphrey. And that Lyndon Johnson will not permit this.

And that at the last moment, Hubert, Hubert Humphrey will renominate Lyndon Johnson who will accept and enter the lists against Richard Nixon.

Strange Silence

Paradoxes are numerous these days, but none is more conspicuous than the absolute silence about Czechoslovakia which is being maintained by virtually all the groups, organizations, college professors, liberals and others in America who zealously expound the doctrine that people have a right to determine their own form of government.

No such silence prevailed when Rhodesia, for example, tried to solve its internal problems with respect to racial relations. In fact, the United States has joined with other members of the United Nations in imposing almost total sanctions on trade with Rhodesia.

BUT HERE IS Czechoslovakia threatened by military intervention by the Soviet government if something in line with Moscow-style communism is not adopted. Yet no voices are raised anywhere in Europe or in this country even to express sympathy with the democratic elements in Czechoslovakia which are trying to modify their form of government.

Meanwhile, the Soviets are making military threats and have actually mobilized troops on the border of Czecholsovakia to coerce the latter into acceptance of Moscow's dictatorial policies.

The Czech leaders are not trying to abolish communism, but seeking to modify it so that it will be more Democratic. They already are permitting considerable freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, and freedom of the press. The Soviet government, however, apparently feels it has the right to dictate to the leaders in Prague what they may or may not do in domestic policies.

Members of the 11-man Communist body ruling Czechoslovakia conferred with top Soviet leaders who have come from Moscow to a meeting on Czech territory near the Soviet borter.

Upon the outcome of this conference depends whether the Soviet Union will intervene militarily to force the present government to come to terms or will establish a new regime that will adhere to the kind of communism which the Soviets apply throughout the areas they control.

Moscow is being supported by Poland, East Germany and Bulgaria — over which it mantains an iron hand — and to a lesser extent by Hungary, which is still occupied by Sovet troops.

The Kremlin leaders are demanding of Czech officials that they turn back toward the Sovet kind of communism — including a resumption of press censorship and the suppression of all nonCommunist political activities.

Even more, the Czechs are being coerced into maintaining their alliance with the communist-bloc nations and are being warned about getting too friendly with West Germany or other nonCommunist countries. The threat of Soviet military intervention is constant.

The crisis is bound to affect the future of the satellite states in Eastern Europe. Yugoslavia under Tito long ago broke away from Sovet domination, but does have friendly relations with Moscow. Rumania, too, has in recent years asserted more and more independence.

It is understandable that the American government would, for diplomatic reasons, choose to be silent. Washington has kept a hands-off policy in the Czechoslovak controversy because of a belief that nothing should be done that would give Moscow a chance to blame Western governments for what is happening in Czechoslovakia.

WHEN THE UNITED STATES goes to the assistance of a country which is trying to determine its own form of government — such as South Vietnam — "liberals" denounce them as "aggression." Yet they remain silent as the Soviets seek to deny even to "liberal" Communists the right to set up their own system of government within Czechoslovakia.

The mobilization of Soviet military forces is plainly a threat of aggression against Czechoslovakia, but none of the Communist parties — in France, Italy or this country — is willing to recognize it.

Certainly there is nothing to prevent private organizations and some of the articulate professors and scholars in America and Western Europe from condemning publicly in most vehement terms the Soviet intervention in the internal affairs of Czechoslovakia. But silence seems to be the rule.

Foreign Aid Under Attack

The old bugaboo, foreign aid, again is the subject of congressional debate.

The Senate plans to vote on the $1.94-billion bill by the end of the week when Congress will recess for the political conventions.

John Sparkman, acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has testified the foreign aid request—lowest in history—cannot be reduced further without jeopardizing the entire foreign policy of the United States.

There are those who take issue with Sen. Sparkman, and with good reason.

THE RECORD is full of examples, of U.S. blundering in the foreign aid field. Waste, corruption and fuzzy-thinking incidents have given the whole foreign aid program a permanent taint.

The image of a benevolent Uncle Sam distributing dollars to solve the problems of nations around the world has worked against pro-aid forces.

So far as foreign policy is concerned, the United States has been supporting a formidable aid program to spur development which is a help to the American economy and to maintain influence in strategic areas of the world.

The sad truth is the American foreign aid program is, for the most part, an abject failure.

For a quick reference point, take a look at the United Arab Republic — Egypt.

Between 1952 and 1965, the United States pumped $1.2 billion into Egypt. The figure probably would have been higher but it cooled off from time to time as President Gamal Abdel Nasser made overtures to the Soviet Union.

During this same period when the United States was trying to win friends and influence people in Egypt, the Russians poured $1.8 billion into President Nasser's land.

The United States, deviating from its foreign policy, eventually folded its hand and left the Middle East pot to the Russians.

So many examples of foreign policy foolishness are staring this nation in the face, it gets tiresome reiterating them.

So what can be done to make foreign aid an effective international diplomatic lever and to make sure funds needed for domestic programs are not being piped into foreign countries?

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in 1963, appointed a study group, headed by Gen. Lucas D. Clay, to take a look at the foreign aid situation and make recommendations for tightening up the program.

One of the criticisms leveled at foreign aid by the committee was that the United States was "attempting too much for too many and that a higher quality and reduced quantity of our diffused aid effort in certain countries could accomplish more."

The committee proposed that aid not be extended if it "simply postpones the inevitable day of financial and national reckoning" of the recipient nation; if it were being used to establish "government-owned industrial and commercial enterprises which compete with existing private endeavors and in situations "inconsistent with our beliefs, democratic tradition and knowledge of economic organization and consequences."

In short, the panel was suggesting American taxpayer money be spent more wisely and more consistently with realistic goals.

The idea still is worthy of congressional attention.

The Big Mouthed Bug

Tri-state area residents may not realize it, but they are on the border of a battle being fought against the westward spread of the destructive gypsy moth.

A Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture aide reports the Keystone state is the last line of defense in this war against the moth which can defoliate entire forests.

The insect has already chomped its way from New England through eastern New York, New Jersey and northeastern Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania may be able to stop the westward advance with a control program which includes aerial spraying of infested areas.

However, this spraying has caused a controversy that has brought about hearings to determine whether the pesticide is harmful to natural resources. It is claimed by some the chemicals may kill fish and game, and that the "balance of nature" will provide for curbs upon the moth.

We are uncertain if the balance of nature have not been totally unbalanced by man's housing, highways and various hungers, but we hope that Pennsylvania will be able to halt the moth before it invades western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

Our forest lands have already been too greatly reduced by fires and timber cutting without being diminished further by a big-mouthed bug.

'Repeaters' In Crime Statistics

With calls for action to halt the rapid rise in crime and violence coming from many sources throughout the nation, the statistics relating to repeat offenders should be carefully studied.

Police officers from cities with populations in excess of a million have said that less than a thousand repeaters account for most of the serious crime in their communities.

A POLICE OFFICIAL in one metropolitan community predicted with assurance that if a few hundred men in his city were put behind bars permanently, the instances of criminal behavior would drop dramatically.

In city after city and state after state, examples supporting this belief are recorded.

One typical case will serve to illustrate the point:

A 67-year-old widow was beaten and murdered in California in 1966 by a convicted rapist who was free on bond while awaiting trial on another rape charge. The man had a history of vicious assaults and sex crimes which began in 1960 when he raped a mentally-retarded girl.

A PSYCHIATRIST found him to be a sexual psychopath and he was briefly confined to a mental institution, being released prior to the murder of the widow. His history is one of light sentences, parole and probation.

In the hue and cry for law enforcement, it would seem logical to give special consideration to suggestions that persistent repeaters should not be eligible for parole until rehabilitation techniques have been greatly improved, that from having so much time to commit more their bond requirements should be stiffer and that criminal cases should be brought to trial more quickly to prevent the guilty offenders crimes while waiting.

The Abe Fortas Issue

The issue of Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court will not be considered again for six weeks and both sides are glad for the break.

Final disposition of the issue still is a matter of speculation, but the sometimes bitter Senate hearings have clouded the early optimism of Mr. Fortas' supporters.

BOTH SIDES still feel victory will be theirs, but agree the decision will be close.

The antiFortas faction was small at the beginning of the hearing sessions but picked up considerably through the seven days of debate and speech making.

Chief Justice Earl Warren's press conference statement that he would not retire if Justice Fortas appointment was rejected provided new ammunitions for senators charging President Johnson with manipulating the court to preserve its liberal nature.

By the time the hearings shifted into high gear, they had turned into a full review of Supreme Court decisions, charges of "cronyism" against President and the system of appointments to the court.

Much has been made of the fact Justice Fortas served as an adviser to President Johnson on critical issues while a member of the court. Critics say this is a mockery of the separation-of-powers safeguards.

The big ado made by southern segregationists about the liberal rulings by the Supreme Court has been disregarded by many senators but enough antiFortas issues were raised to make his backers uncomfortable.

NO ONE is willing to prognosticate on how the six-week recess and two national political conventions will affect the controversial question, but they will have an influence.

It is certain that regardless of whether the nomination of Justice Fortas is confirmed or turned down, some attempts will be made to revise the method of selecting justices and there will be reaffirmation of the separation-of-powers principal supported by the Constitution.

Statistics That Speak

The danger that is a permanent part of our streets and highways has been pointed out many times and many ways.

There is even one school of thought that so much has been said about the subject that some citizens no longer react to new cautioning.

Others feel those who pay attention to the message need no further reminders and those who have ignored warnings so far will continue to do the same in the future.

Nevertheless, we believe in a policy of continuing public exposure in the life-and-death matter in the hope that someone will benefit.

Therefore, some new statistics reported by the Ohio Highway Safety Department deserve mention.

A survey of mishaps in Ohio highways in 1967 produced these facts:

Pope Urges Catholics To Accept 'Pill' Edict

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI, facing the possibility of widespread refusal to comply with his ban on mechanical and chemical methods of birth control, appealed to Roman Catholic couples today to understand and accept his prohibition.

In his first comment since his encyclical Humanae Vitae—Of Human Life—was issued Monday, the 70-year-old pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church said in a statement he knew his decision not to modify the church's traditional policy would bring anguish to millions.

The statement, issued before the Pope's weekly general audience at his summer residence 15 miles south of Rome, said:

Pope's Statement

"The knowledge of our grave responsibility caused us no small suffering. We well knew of the heated discussions in the press. The anguish of those involved in the problem touched us also. We studied and read all we could. We consulted eminent persons. And we sought in prayer the aid of the Holy Spirit in interpreting the divine law which flows from the inner needs of human love, from the essential structure, and from the personal dignity of the wedded couple.

"We were guided also by the feeling of charity, of pastoral concern for married Christians. Finally, our labor was accompanied by hope—hope that this document will be accepted for its truth, hope above all that Christian married couples will understand that its teaching is but the manifestation of their true love, an imitation of the love of Christ for the church."

The brief statement was issued in various languages, and the French text acknowledged that the birth control decision was the most serious the Pope has made since he was elected five years ago.

May Disobey Edict

But dissent voiced against the Pope's refusal to modify the church's traditional position raised the possibility that many of the world's 500 million Roman Catholics would disobey his injunctions.

His encyclical also sharpened the division between liberal Catholics who favor birth control and conservatives opposed to it. And it also appeared to be a block on the road to ecumenical cooperation with other churches that sanction contraception.

L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, struck out at the dissenters Tuesday, saying they labored under "a wrong conception of man."

The Pope in the encyclical said he anticipated that "this teaching will perhaps not be easily received by all." As if anticipating protest from the clergy, he warned priests "that in the field of morals as well as in that of dogma... all should speak the same language."

However, the outburst of defiance surpassed adverse reaction to any other papal document in modern times and confronted Pope Paul with the biggest crisis of his five-year-old reign.

High church authorities, the cardinals and the bishops, tended to align themselves with the Pope's views or at least to withhold comment. But many priests, theologians and figures from other churches took strong stands against the renewal of the ban on contraceptive devices.

In Washington, D.C., a statement attributed to 87 Roman Catholic theologians indicated married couples were free to decide for themselves whether to practice contraception. Presenting the statement to newsmen, the Rev. Robert E. Hunt of Catholic University in Washington said the Pope's encyclical was "theologically myopic" and "an inadequate presentation of what God's will would be."

Some predicted that the Pope's ruling would cause an exodus from the church. But others felt that Catholics already practicing birth control would shrug off the encyclical and stay in the church.

Wildcat Strike Ends At Goodyear's Plant

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A wildcat strike by 20 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. employes which idled 700 men at the firm's No. 2 plant here ended Tuesday.

Officials of Local 2, United Rubber Workers, said the strikers who stopped work Saturday had agreed to return to their jobs.

The strikers refused to work in sympathy with seven employes who were suspended Friday over a work rules dispute.

Stokes Opens Lake Erie Swimming Pool

CLEVELAND (AP)—A swimming poool in Lake Erie will be officially opened today by Mayor Carl B. Stokes at White City Beach.

The pool was built with a $325,000 federal grant.

A section of the beach at East 140th Street has been partitioned and the water inside treated to allow swimming in the normally polluted Lake Erie waters.

Hammondsville District News

HAMMONDSVILLE — Approximately 125 attended the Pine Grove Ridge annual homecoming Sunday.

The program began with worship services and Sunday School at the Methodist Church, where the Rev. Carl Stockdale is pastor.

Pope Urges Catholics To Accept 'Pill' Edict

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI, facing the possibility of widespread refusal to comply with his ban on mechanical and chemical methods of birth control, appealed to Roman Catholic couples today to understand and accept his prohibition.

In his first comment since his encyclical Humanae Vitae—Of Human Life—was issued Monday, the 70-year-old pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church said in a statement he knew his decision not to modify the church's traditional policy would bring anguish to millions.

The statement, issued before the Pope's weekly general audience at his summer residence 15 miles south of Rome, said:

Pope's Statement

"The knowledge of our grave responsibility caused us no small suffering. We well knew of the heated discussions in the press. The anguish of those involved in the problem touched us also. We studied and read all we could. We consulted eminent persons. And we sought in prayer the aid of the Holy Spirit in interpreting the divine law which flows from the inner needs of human love, from the essential structure, and from the personal dignity of the wedded couple.

"We were guided also by the feeling of charity, of pastoral concern for married Christians. Finally, our labor was accompanied by hope—hope that this document will be accepted for its truth, hope above all that Christian married couples will understand that its teaching is but the manifestation of their true love, an imitation of the love of Christ for the church."

The brief statement was issued in various languages, and the French text acknowledged that the birth control decision was the most serious the Pope has made since he was elected five years ago.

May Disobey Edict

But dissent voiced against the Pope's refusal to modify the church's traditional position raised the possibility that many of the world's 500 million Roman Catholics would disobey his injunctions.

His encyclical also sharpened the division between liberal Catholics who favor birth control and conservatives opposed to it. And it also appeared to be a block on the road to ecumenical cooperation with other churches that sanction contraception.

L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, struck out at the dissenters Tuesday, saying they labored under "a wrong conception of man."

The Pope in the encyclical said he anticipated that "this teaching will perhaps not be easily received by all." As if anticipating protest from the clergy, he warned priests "that in the field of morals as well as in that of dogma... all should speak the same language."

However, the outburst of defiance surpassed adverse reaction to any other papal document in modern times and confronted Pope Paul with the biggest crisis of his five-year-old reign.

High church authorities, the cardinals and the bishops, tended to align themselves with the Pope's views or at least to withhold comment. But many priests, theologians and figures from other churches took strong stands against the renewal of the ban on contraceptive devices.

In Washington, D.C., a statement attributed to 87 Roman Catholic theologians indicated married couples were free to decide for themselves whether to practice contraception. Presenting the statement to newsmen, the Rev. Robert E. Hunt of Catholic University in Washington said the Pope's encyclical was "theologically myopic" and "an inadequate presentation of what God's will would be."

Some predicted that the Pope's ruling would cause an exodus from the church. But others felt that Catholics already practicing birth control would shrug off the encyclical and stay in the church.

Wildcat Strike Ends At Goodyear's Plant

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A wildcat strike by 20 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. employes which idled 700 men at the firm's No. 2 plant here ended Tuesday.

Officials of Local 2, United Rubber Workers, said the strikers who stopped work Saturday had agreed to return to their jobs.

The strikers refused to work in sympathy with seven employes who were suspended Friday over a work rules dispute.

Stokes Opens Lake Erie Swimming Pool

CLEVELAND (AP)—A swimming poool in Lake Erie will be officially opened today by Mayor Carl B. Stokes at White City Beach.

The pool was built with a $325,000 federal grant.

A section of the beach at East 140th Street has been partitioned and the water inside treated to allow swimming in the normally polluted Lake Erie waters.

Votes To Strike

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—About 550 members of Local 3687, United Steel Workers, voted Tuesday night to strike the Allied Chemical Corp. in nearby South Point when the current contract expires at midnight Wednesday.

Griffin Opposition Leader

40 In Senate Reported Against Court Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The opposition leader to President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations says his forces have doubled in recent weeks asd have more than enough votes to keep the Senate from voting on the appointments.

"I am confident these nominations will never be confirmed," said Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., Tuesday about the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as an associate justice. Griffin said 40 senators now oppose the two.

He did not name the senators who he claims have increased the opposition strength from the original 19.

Griffin and his allies have threatened a filibuster against the appointments and it would take a two-thirds vote to shut off their debate. Griffin needs to muster at least 34 members to vote against choking off the filibuster.

Griffin Comments

Griffin commented in a speech to the National Press Club while members of the Senate Judiciary Committee gathered in secret in the Senate's basement recording studio to view three films which one called "hardcore pornography" and another labeled "crude vulgarity."

The question of pornography has taken center stage in the drawn-out hassling over Fortas' nomination to succeed Earl Warren. One Republican has charged on the Senate floor that Fortas' votes on obscenity have helped "destroy community morals" in the United States.

Congress recesses Friday for the two national political conventions, returning in September. There appears to be no chance for action on the nominations until then, although committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., called a meeting today to consider the Fortas appointment.

The committee has put off any action on Thornberry's nomination until after the Senate confirms or denies Fortas.

President Johnson has accepted Warren's retirement effective upon selection of a qualified successor, meaning one that has been approved by the Senate.

Warren says he will stay on if Fortas, an associate justice since 1965, is rejected.

One of the three films viewed in the small basement room was "0-7."

Fortas voted with the majority in reversing a lower court decision that "0-7" was obscene.

500 Sign Air Pollution Petitions In Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — The New Cumberland air pollution commiftee reported at its meeting Wednesday night 500 residents have signed a petition requesting action be taken in the fight against air pollution caused by the Ohio Edison Co. at Toronto.

It was decided to send a copy of this petition to all West Virginia political representatives, and a letter be sent to Dr. Middleton of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare informing him of the progress being made in New Cumberland in the pollution problem.

The group agreed to have a sign erected at city limits reading "New Cumberland is fighting against air pollution, what is your community doing?"

It was reported that the majority of residents have received surveys concerning the effects air pollution have on health and economics.

A committee will be appointed to evaluate the results of this survey and the information will be presented to the public.

A motion was made by the Rev. Otis Raines to make a survey on all the physicians in the area asking their opinions on the adverse effects air pollution have on the health of the public.

It was decided to cooperate with the residents of Toronto on the issue of air pollution.

Steel

steel. A new domestic price increase would only increase the gap.

In addition, a price increase now wouldn't help business since major customers already have a two-month stockpile, accumulated in case of a strike, and they could shop around for the best bargains.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for management, said the new contract "is higher than we hoped it would be. It involves cost increases greater than we hoped."

But he refused to say whether price hikes could be expected. "I only negotiate contracts," he said.

I. W. Abel, president of the union, said the agreement would cost the industry "considerably in excess of one billion dollars." But he said it wasn't inflationary.

Inflation "is already here," he said. "We're only catching up." Here are major provisions of the contract, which apparently falls within the 6 per cent pattern of major labor settlements this year.

— Yearly wage increases of 20 cents, 12 cents and 12 cents for a total of 44 cents. Over the life of the contract, seven cents will be added to the top classifications for a total of 51 cents.

— Pension improvements averaging 30 per cent, allowing a man with 30 years service to retire with a minimum of $195 a month, versus the old $150.

— Incentive, or bonus, pay for workers not now covered for an average of 10 cents. The details will be worked out by a joint board, with appeals to arbitrators.

— A $30 bonus for each week of vacation, and an extra three weeks of vacation for junior employes once every five years.

— Unemployment increases raising the maximum from $37.50 to $52.50; adjustments in other formulas to raise benefits about 10 per cent.

— Liberalized medical insurance, life insurance, bereavement pay, an additional paid holiday, trial witness pay and increased night and overnight differentials.

"From the standpoint of an economic package, it is the largest that has been negotiated in steel," Abel said.

Steelworkers averaged $3.84 in May. The industry claims fringe benefits added $1.09 to the cost.

Abel acknowledged that many of the 600 local union presidents who comprise the basic steel industry conference were opposed. "I'm not entirely happy myself," he said.

Dozens of local officials denounced the settlement in speeches during a three-hour meeting Tuesday. The opposition was so bitter that a voice vote was ineffective.

A standing vote was called, and the supporters were declared in a majority. One member of the conference estimated that only 65 votes separated the yeas and nays.

Bethlehem Boosts Price On Some Items

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — An increase in the price of steel mill products was announced today by Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Bethlehem said the increases of "slightly less than five per cent" are effective Aug. 8 and affect base prices only.

It said "the price increases are expected to add only enough to revenues to offset cost increases just incurred or expected in the next several months. Selective price increases have not been effective in offsetting smaller cost increases than those now facing Bethlehem. A general price increase is the only method available to alleviate the financial problem which would otherwise occur in the immediate future."

Council authorized revision of the ordinance on parking meter tampering to increase the fine from $10 to $300 for the first offense, and not less than $300 nor more than $500 for each additional offense, or 20 days in jail or both.

Councilman Robert Taggart was absent.

A major Agricultural Department report shows that diets at all income levels are, nutritionally speaking, much worse now than they were ten years ago. Hurried breakfasts and lunches are leaving little time for well balanced meals. A hamburger and a bottle of soda-pop are not enough to supply all the necessary vitamins and minerals.

Teenagers and college students are usually careless about their meals. Just one good vitamin capsule can insure that they get a daily supply of needed vitamins and minerals. We have them in stock.

Griffin Opposition Leader

40 In Senate Reported Against Court Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The opposition leader to President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations says his forces have doubled in recent weeks asd have more than enough votes to keep the Senate from voting on the appointments.

"I am confident these nominations will never be confirmed," said Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., Tuesday about the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as an associate justice. Griffin said 40 senators now oppose the two.

He did not name the senators who he claims have increased the opposition strength from the original 19.

Griffin and his allies have threatened a filibuster against the appointments and it would take a two-thirds vote to shut off their debate. Griffin needs to muster at least 34 members to vote against choking off the filibuster.

Griffin Comments

Griffin commented in a speech to the National Press Club while members of the Senate Judiciary Committee gathered in secret in the Senate's basement recording studio to view three films which one called "hardcore pornography" and another labeled "crude vulgarity."

The question of pornography has taken center stage in the drawn-out hassling over Fortas' nomination to succeed Earl Warren. One Republican has charged on the Senate floor that Fortas' votes on obscenity have helped "destroy community morals" in the United States.

Congress recesses Friday for the two national political conventions, returning in September. There appears to be no chance for action on the nominations until then, although committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., called a meeting today to consider the Fortas appointment.

The committee has put off any action on Thornberry's nomination until after the Senate confirms or denies Fortas.

President Johnson has accepted Warren's retirement effective upon selection of a qualified successor, meaning one that has been approved by the Senate.

Warren says he will stay on if Fortas, an associate justice since 1965, is rejected.

One of the three films viewed in the small basement room was "0-7."

Fortas voted with the majority in reversing a lower court decision that "0-7" was obscene.

500 Sign Air Pollution Petitions In Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — The New Cumberland air pollution committee reported at its meeting Wednesday night 500 residents have signed a petition requesting action be taken in the fight against air pollution caused by the Ohio Edison Co. at Toronto.

It was decided to send a copy of this petition to all West Virginia political representatives, and a letter be sent to Dr. Middleton of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare informing him of the progress being made in New Cumberland in the pollution problem.

The group agreed to have a sign erected at city limits reading "New Cumberland is fighting against air pollution, what is your community doing?"

It was reported that the majority of residents have received surveys concerning the effects air pollution have on health and economics.

A committee will be appointed to evaluate the results of this survey and the information will be presented to the public.

A motion was made by the Rev. Otis Raines to make a survey on all the physicians in the area asking their opinions on the adverse effects air pollution have on the health of the public.

It was decided to cooperate with the residents of Toronto on the issue of air pollution.

steel. A new domestic price increase would only increase the gap.

In addition, a price increase now wouldn't help business since major customers already have a two-month stockpile, accumulated in case of a strike, and they could shop around for the best bargains.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for management, said the new contract "is higher than we hoped it would be. It involves cost increases greater than we hoped."

But he refused to say whether price hikes could be expected. "I only negotiate contracts," he said.

I. W. Abel, president of the union, said the agreement would cost the industry "considerably in excess of one billion dollars." But he said it wasn't inflationary.

Inflation "is already here," he said. "We're only catching up." Here are major provisions of the contract, which apparently falls within the 6 per cent pattern of major labor settlements this year.

— Yearly wage increases of 20 cents, 12 cents and 12 cents for a total of 44 cents. Over the life of the contract, seven cents will be added to the top classifications for a total of 51 cents.

— Pension improvements averaging 30 per cent, allowing a man with 30 years service to retire with a minimum of $195 a month, versus the old $150.

— Incentive, or bonus, pay for workers not now covered for an average of 10 cents. The details will be worked out by a joint board, with appeals to arbitrators.

— A $30 bonus for each week of vacation, and an extra three weeks of vacation for junior employes once every five years.

— Unemployment increases raising the maximum from $37.50 to $52.50; adjustments in other formulas to raise benefits about 10 per cent.

— Liberalized medical insurance, life insurance, bereavement pay, an additional paid holiday, trial witness pay and increased night and overnight differentials.

"From the standpoint of an economic package, it is the largest that has been negotiated in steel," Abel said.

Steelworkers averaged $3.84 in May. The industry claims fringe benefits added $1.09 to the cost.

Abel acknowledged that many of the 600 local union presidents who comprise the basic steel industry conference were opposed. "I'm not entirely happy myself," he said.

Dozens of local officials denounced the settlement in speeches during a three-hour meeting Tuesday. The opposition was so bitter that a voice vote was ineffective.

A standing vote was called, and the supporters were declared in a majority. One member of the conference estimated that only 65 votes separated the yeas and nays.

Bethlehem Boosts Price On Some Items

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — An increase in the price of steel mill products was announced today by Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Bethlehem said the increases of "slightly less than five per cent" are effective Aug. 8 and affect base prices only.

It said "the price increases are expected to add only enough to revenues to offset cost increases just incurred or expected in the next several months. Selective price increases have not been effective in offsetting smaller cost increases than those now facing Bethlehem. A general price increase is the only method available to alleviate the financial problem which would otherwise occur in the immediate future."

Council authorized revision of the ordinance on parking meter tampering to increase the fine from $10 to $300 for the first offense, and not less than $300 nor more than $500 for each additional offense, or 20 days in jail or both.

Councilman Robert Taggart was absent.

Broad Family Programs

U.S. Plans Seen Unhurt By Pope Edict On 'Pill'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pope Paul VI's birth control edict is not expected to have significant impact on the U.S. government's broad and costly family planning programs, say informed sources in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Past experience has shown that most poor women, including Roman Catholics, are eager to obtain means of birth control, these sources say.

"Many are desperate to control the size of their families," said a well-placed source. "They otherwise have one baby every year, and that keeps them in poverty and it's bad for their health."

The source said that men, from the Pope down, "have always speculated on the moral and theological issues, but it's the women who bear the babies —and they make the final decision."

HEW declined official comment on the Pope's encyclical released Monday forbidding Catholic women to use birth control pills or any other mechanical means of contraception.

No figures are available on the number of Catholics among women eligible for family planning services under federally supported programs. But officials say Catholics probably comprise a distinct minority.

HEW officials point out, however, that there are sizeable concentrations of Catholics in low-income brackets; Puerto Ricans and Mexican-Americans.

Mrs. Katherine B. Oettinger, HEW's deputy assistant secretary for population and family planning, noted in an interview that predominantly Catholic Puerto Rico has pioneered in family planning programs and they have been extremely popular. But, she said, "It's too early to tell how Catholic women will react to the Pope's statement."

The federal government provided about $28 million in birth control services last year.

President Johnson has asked for $56 million for the current fiscal year. Indications are that Congress will grant only part of the increase.

In another reaction to the Pope's pronouncement, 87 Roman Catholic theologians announced Tuesday in Washington that they were opposed to it and that they believe Catholic couples should use birth control techniques according to their own conscience.

"As Roman Catholic theologians, conscious of our duty and our limitations," they said, "we conclude that spouses may responsibly decide according to their conscience that artificial contraception in some circumstances is permissible and indeed necessary to preserve and foster the values and sacredness of marriage."

The first calendar based on the solar system was adopted by the Egyptians in 4246 B. C. It was a 12-month calendar with each month containing 30 days, totaling 360 days for the year. To make the calendar come out even with the sun, they added five days at the end of the year — six days every fourth year. The five days were not part of any months. They were used as feast days in honor of their gods.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

TB Needs Early Treatment

Your child should have a tuberculin test every year or two in order to detect the disease in its earliest stages if it is present. If the test becomes positive, it means that the child has had contact with the tubercle bacillus. When effective treatment is started early in the course of this disease, it can be brought under control much more easily than later in its course.

Dr. Brandstadt

WHEN THE DISEASE is cured, the tuberculin test remains positive for life, so, after the initial bout, no further tuberculin testing is advisable. If the infection comes back, other means of diagnosis must be relied on—the victim's symptoms, finding tubercle bacilli in his sputum and chest X-rays.

—:—

THE BEST preventive for your child is daily outdoor exercise, maintenance of his weight within the normal range for his height and the recommended number of hours of sleep for his age.

—:—

Q—My older son, 5, has had the following injections: diphtheria - pertussis - tetanus (DPT) and a booster and poliomyelitis and a booster. Because of illness, my younger son, 4, has had only the oral polio vaccine. What injections or boosters should each have this summer?

A—Smallpox vaccination should have been given when your sons were between 12 and 18 months old. If this was not done, it should be done at once. If the reason for not immunizing your younger son no longer exists, he should get his first DPT injection now and a booster after one year and again five years later.

—:—

YOUR OLDER SON should get another DPT booster now. Although authorities state that a booster is not required after the oral (Sabin) poliomyelitis vaccine, some state health departments urge that one be given before a child enters first grade. If your older son had the Salk vaccine, he should get the Sabin vaccine now.

Q—What is a bella rosary in children?

A—The only kind of rosary I know of is a row of knots on the chest where the bony rib becomes cartilage. When it is due to a vitamin C deficiency, it is called a scorbutic rosary and when it is due to a vitamin D deficiency, it is called a rickety rosary. If this doesn't answer your question, would you care to try again?

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Humphrey—McCarthy?

Vote Appeal Bars Veep, President Of Same State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has never had a president and vice president from the same state, but the reason is more political than constitutional.

Strategists for both Democrats and Republicans agree that the constitutional barrier to having both candidates from the same state is easily overcome.

They're guided more by the idea that a ticket should be geographically and ideologically balanced in order to have the widest political appeal.

The question is getting more than usual attention this year because of talk in both parties of nominating presidential and vice presidential candidates from the same states.

There have been suggestions that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination, should pick rival Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as his running mate.

Although both are from Minnesota, the two represent opposing wings of the Democratic party on the key Vietnam issue, and a union might help to unify the party for the November election.

There also have been suggestions that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican front-runner, pick New York Mayor John V. Lindsay as his running mate. Nixon lives in New York.

The Constitution deals with the situation in the 12th Amendment. It states that when the presidenial electors meet Dec. 15—well after the election—they shall "vote by ballot for president and vice president, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves."

In other words, the 10 Minnesota electors, if a Humphrey-McCarthy ticket carried the state, could not vote for both Humphrey for president and McCarthy for vice president.

If the test becomes positive, it means that the child has had contact with the tubercle bacillus. When effective treatment is started early in the course of this disease, it can be brought under control much more easily than later in its course.

Dr. Brandstadt

WHEN THE DISEASE is cured, the tuberculin test remains positive for life, so, after the initial bout, no further tuberculin testing is advisable. If the infection comes back, other means of diagnosis must be relied on—the victim's symptoms, finding tubercle bacilli in his sputum and chest X-rays.

THE BEST preventive for your child is daily outdoor exercise, maintenance of his weight within the normal range for his height and the recommended number of hours of sleep for his age.

Q—My older son, 5, has had the following injections: diphtheria - pertussis - tetanus (DPT) and a booster and poliomyelitis and a booster. Because of illness, my younger son, 4, has had only the oral polio vaccine. What injections or boosters should each have this summer?

A—Smallpox vaccination should have been given when your sons were between 12 and 18 months old. If this was not done, it should be done at once. If the reason for not immunizing your younger son no longer exists, he should get his first DPT injection now and a booster after one year and again five years later.

YOUR OLDER SON should get another DPT booster now. Although authorities state that a booster is not required after the oral (Sabin) poliomyelitis vaccine, some state health departments urge that one be given before a child enters first grade. If your older son had the Salk vaccine, he should get the Sabin vaccine now.

Q—What is a bella rosary in children?

A—The only kind of rosary I know of is a row of knots on the chest where the bony rib becomes cartilage. When it is due to a vitamin C deficiency, it is called a scorbutic rosary and when it is due to a vitamin D deficiency, it is called a rickety rosary. If this doesn't answer your question, would you care to try again?

Humphrey—McCarthy?

Vote Appeal Bars Veep, President Of Same State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has never had a president and vice president from the same state, but the reason is more political than constitutional.

Strategists for both Democrats and Republicans agree that the constitutional barrier to having both candidates from the same state is easily overcome.

They're guided more by the idea that a ticket should be geographically and ideologically balanced in order to have the widest political appeal.

The question is getting more than usual attention this year because of talk in both parties of nominating presidential and vice presidential candidates from the same states.

There have been suggestions that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination, should pick rival Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy as his running mate.

Although both are from Minnesota, the two represent opposing wings of the Democratic party on the key Vietnam issue, and a union might help to unify the party for the November election.

There also have been suggestions that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican front-runner, pick New York Mayor John V. Lindsay as his running mate. Nixon lives in New York.

The Constitution deals with the situation in the 12th Amendment. It states that when the presidenial electors meet Dec. 15—well after the election—they shall "vote by ballot for president and vice president, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves."

In other words, the 10 Minnesota electors, if a Humphrey-McCarthy ticket carried the state, could not vote for both Humphrey for president and McCarthy for vice president.

'Pollution Of Words' Stirs Outspoken Blast

DALLAS (AP) Communication experts are calling this the age of communication, but a Chicago advertising executive said at a meeting here it is the age of "communication pollution."

Edward H. Weiss, head of a major agency, said that in addition to the pollution of water and air by modern industrial techniques, "we are also suffering from the pollution of words."

"People communicate when they speak freely, deeply and meaningfully to each other," he said.

Weiss asserted that words are tools that can be used for three purposes: express thoughts, conceal thoughts and camouflage the fact that there are no thoughts at all.

He urges a communication revolution: write less, read less, answer less. He advocates the spoken word in person for inter-office communications.

'Pollution Of Words' Stirs Outspoken Blast

DALLAS (AP) Communication experts are calling this the age of communication, but a Chicago advertising executive said at a meeting here it is the age of "communication pollution."

Edward H. Weiss, head of a major agency, said that in addition to the pollution of water and air by modern industrial techniques, "we are also suffering from the pollution of words."

"People communicate when they speak freely, deeply and meaningfully to each other," he said.

Weiss asserted that words are tools that can be used for three purposes: express thoughts, conceal thoughts and camouflage the fact that there are no thoughts at all.

He urges a communication revolution: write less, read less, answer less. He advocates the spoken word in person for inter-office communications.

Deep In Mekong Delta

U.S. Task Force Raids Viet Cong Base, Kill 90

SAIGON (AP) — A task force of armored American gunboats, helicopter gunships and South Vietnamese marines plunged deep into the fertile Mekong Delta to raid a Viet Cong base camp. Field reports today said at least 90 of the enemy had been killed and the action was continuing.

The Vietnamese Marines reported seizing an arsenal containing 62 weapons, 423 mortar rounds and more than 12,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.

The only allied casualties reported were two South Vietnamese wounded.

The assault was made Tuesday 92 miles southwest of Saigon, along a tributary of the Cai Lon River 34 miles east of the Gulf of Thailand.

A military spokesman said it was the first allied penetration of the area of the southern Mekong Delta which has been dominated by the Viet Cong for years.

The allied commanders "had good information they would get some action down there," the spokesman said.

Most of the damage to the Viet Cong apparently was done by the U.S. Navy's 60-foot Monitor gunboats and by armored troop carriers after the Vietnamese marines had cornered the enemy in a bunker complex.

U.S. Army helicopter gunsips also raked the enemy positions with machine guns and rockets.

About 1,000 U.S. infantrymen from the 9th Division, swept through another area about two miles to the east but reported little contact.

Elsewhere, only light, scattered skirmishes were reported. They included three small fights on the outskirts of Saigon in which South Vietnamese troops said they killed seven enemy soldiers, captured six and seized 18 weapons and large quantities of ammunition.

Northwest of the capital, American strategic bombers flew their 50th mission in seven days against suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations menacing Saigon and key towns near it.

Eight missions totaling 40 of the big B52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of bombs Tuesday and today on enemy positions 30 to 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

The equivalent of about 250 of the B52s have attacked suspected enemy base camps during the last week in the three western provinces of Hau Nghia, Tay Ninh and Binh Long, which form a triangle near the Cambodian border.

With each bomber carrying 30 tons of explosives, they have dropped about 7,500 tons of bombs in this comparatively small area.

The third major Communist offensive of the year is expected in the next two months, and the major attack in the Saigon area is expected from the west and the northwest, where the 9th North Vietnamese division and two other regiments are reported preparing.

Saigon, Tay Ninh City and the key district towns of Loc Ninh and Trang Bang have been mentioned in intelligence reports as likely targets.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I keep leather-covered books in good condition?

A.—By carefully rubbing the leather with a little pure lanolin oil or castor oil every few years. Use a clean cloth or your fingers, taking care to work the oil in just a little at a time. No excess oil should be left on the surface of the leather. On light-colored leathers, use white petroleum jelly or a special leather cream, since other oils tend to darken the leather.

Q.—How can I prevent my bathroom mirrors from clouding up when I bathe or shower?

A.—A light coating of glycerin over the glass will usually keep your mirrors clear.

Q.—How can I concoct a sour cream substitute?

A.—By beating a tablespoon of vinegar with a cup of evaporated milk.

About 1,000 U.S. infantrymen from the 9th Division, swept through another area about two miles to the east but reported little contact.

Elsewhere, only light, scattered skirmishes were reported. They included three small fights on the outskirts of Saigon in which South Vietnamese troops said they killed seven enemy soldiers, captured six and seized 18 weapons and large quantities of ammunition.

Northwest of the capital, American strategic bombers flew their 50th mission in seven days against suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations menacing Saigon and key towns near it.

Eight missions totaling 40 of the big B52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of bombs Tuesday and today on enemy positions 30 to 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

The equivalent of about 250 of the B52s have attacked suspected enemy base camps during the last week in the three western provinces of Hau Nghia, Tay Ninh and Binh Long, which form a triangle near the Cambodian border.

With each bomber carrying 30 tons of explosives, they have dropped about 7,500 tons of bombs in this comparatively small area.

The third major Communist offensive of the year is expected in the next two months, and the major attack in the Saigon area is expected from the west and the northwest, where the 9th North Vietnamese division and two other regiments are reported preparing.

Saigon, Tay Ninh City and the key district towns of Loc Ninh and Trang Bang have been mentioned in intelligence reports as likely targets.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I keep leather-covered books in good condition?

A.—By carefully rubbing the leather with a little pure lanolin oil or castor oil every few years. Use a clean cloth or your fingers, taking care to work the oil in just a little at a time. No excess oil should be left on the surface of the leather. On light-colored leathers, use white petroleum jelly or a special leather cream, since other oils tend to darken the leather.

Q.—How can I prevent my bathroom mirrors from clouding up when I bathe or shower?

A.—A light coating of glycerin over the glass will usually keep your mirrors clear.

Q.—How can I concoct a sour cream substitute?

A.—By beating a tablespoon of vinegar with a cup of evaporated milk.

Three Proposals To Be Presented Industry Council

INDUSTRY — Three recommendations to be presented Council were discussed by the Industry Mayor's Advisory Committee Tuesday night at the borough building.

Charles L. Finley, president, said the committee will ask Council for enforcement of a junk yard ordinance if there is one on the books. This was done in answer to complaints that old cars are parked on properties throughout the borough.

Council will be advised that residents of Pine Grove Rd. have complained about dirt piles blocking accesses to mailboxes and driveways. These were left after the road was resurfaced recently between Ohioview and Avondale Drives.

The committee will recommend the resurfacing company restore the street to normal condition.

The third recommendation will be that potholes on Hice Ave. be patched until resurfacing is completed.

New Group Eyes Housing Projects

A group to form the nucleus for a city housing committee was established at a meeting this morning at the office of Don Eckert, city planning coordinator.

James Lowe of Lowe Realty will serve as chairman. The other members of the committee include Kenneth Kibler and Charles Sayre, realtors.

The committee will make a study of community housing conditions and federal programs, Eckert said. It will report on how the city can begin rehabilitation and renewal of housing.

Action Awaited In Weirton City Pay Boost Issue

WEIRTON — Counsel for a Weirton citizens group which has blocked pay increases for Mayor Frank Rybka and seven Councilmen is expected to file a brief shortly in the dispute.

Judge James McClure of Hancock County Court Monday issued an injunction halting the planned pay boosts.

The raises amounting to $2,300 a year for each Council member, and $4,300 for the mayor, were recently voted by Council. Councilmen had made $100 a year and the mayor $500.

A citizens group asked for the injunction claiming city officials cannot raise their salaries while in office.

Atty. Floyd Tarr, who represents the citizens group, was granted until Aug. 29 to present his brief at the Hancock County Circuit Court. Council has until Sept. 15 to reply to the brief.

Health Group Sets Project

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health and Safety Council voted Tuesday night to promote an educational program on the need for tetanus toxoid immunization.

Richard Speidel of Hanoverton, president, was in charge of the quarterly meeting in the Cooperative Extension Service office here.

Mrs. Karl Ulicny of Salem reported 2,273 youngsters were immunized during the county medical society's measles immunization program July 14 in five communities—East Liverpool, Salem, Wellsville, East Palestine and Lisbon.

Paul H. Gipp, county extension agent, reported on Ohio's solid waste-disposal legislation which will become effective Jan. 1. He said Ohio Department of Health engineers say the daily output of solid wastes in Ohio is enough to fill a freight train seven miles long. Each resident daily disposes of about 4.5 pounds of solid wastes and the output is expected to reach 5.5 pounds per person by 1980, the engineers say.

Speidel appointed Gipp to head a committee including Floyd Lower of Lisbon and Mrs. Lucille Huston of Wellsville RD 1 to educate county and community officials concerning the need for landfill disposal places.

The solid wastes disposal bill requires that all operations be licensed and inspected by local health departments using uniform statewide regulations.

Mrs. Ulicny also reported on the comprehensive health planning study. Officers of the study group who will submit a recommendation are Robert Rice of Salem, chairman; John Barrow of Columbiana, vice chairman, and Francis Bezdek of Signal, secretary.

Council adopted a memorial resolution honoring Earl S. Kerr of Salem who died Monday. The resolution cites his service to the Columbiana County Public Health League, the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Health and Safety Council.

Boost In Net Income

PITTSBURGH — Koppers Company, Inc., has announced substantially improved net income for the first half of 1968 and increased the quarterly dividend on the company's common stock — effective for the third quarter — to 40 cents per share from 35 cents.

Koppers net income for the first half was $6,405,000 after adjustment for the retroactive tax surcharge, compared with $5,251,000 in the same period last year.

Mercury Taken At Pumping Site

Although the load was heavy, thieves had to use only a small container to carry away several pounds of mercury from a gas pumping station on the River Rd.

Police were notified today of the theft of 52 pounds of mercury from a Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. pressure station at River Rd. and Apple Alley.

Patrolman Orin Smith said the thieves apparently made their haul Friday, because one of the gauges stopped registering when the mercury was removed.

The theft was discovered by an employe checking meters. The gas from the station is fed into the Ohio Valley Gas Co. system.

Utility officials indicated there have been several such thefts around the country. The mercury is valued at $4 per pound, although in some places it brings as much as $10.

Driver Faces Charge In Wellsville Mishap

Kenneth D. Buckle, about 21, of 607 17th St., Wellsville, and Marvin McCuen of 1036 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, were involved in a minor collision in the parking lot next to the Wellsville fire station Tuesday evening.

Wellsville police said Buckle apparently backed into the parked auto belonging to McCuen. There was only slight damage to the autos. Buckle was charged with driving without a license.

New Meeting Set On Heights Plan

Residents of the Pleasant Heights area will hold another meeting next Tuesday night to discuss the possibility of establishing a neighborhood center.

About 30 attended a meeting Tuesday night at the Pleasant Heights School to discuss the proposal, but the group felt there were not enough residents present to be completely representative of the entire neighborhood.

These attending the meeting called by Don Eckert, city planning coordinator, said they will advise their neighbors so more will attend the next session when a decision will be reached.

Councilman Ed Massey attended. Discussion was held on the possibility of using the school as the site for the center.

About 30 attended a meeting Tuesday night at the Pleasant Heights School to discuss the proposal, but the group felt there were not enough residents present to be completely representative of the entire neighborhood.

These attending the meeting called by Don Eckert, city planning coordinator, said they will advise their neighbors so more will attend the next session when a decision will be reached.

Councilman Ed Massey attended. Discussion was held on the possibility of using the school as the site for the center.

First Is Key, Douglass Says

Rocky Eyes South To Nip Nixon's Early Ballot Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is placing increasing importance on the Southern states in the effort to prevent Richard M. Nixon from winning the Republican nomination for president on an early ballot.

His aides in the South advise him that numerous Southern delegates who are listed as voting for Nixon, the acknowledged frontrunner for the nomination, in fact favor Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

"The first ballot is the key," said Robert Douglass, campaign manager for Rockefeller, "and the Southern delegates who are for Reagan could be the key to that."

He said there are potential defections from Nixon to Reagan in Texas, South and North Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Tennessee.

Cites First 2 Ballots

In a news conference in Denver Tuesday, Rockefeller underlined the importance of the first two ballots at the Republican National Convention.

"After the second ballot there will be a drifting toward the ultimate winner," he said. "In the history of our party, the person who has had the most votes in the beginning and then who has lost votes, has never regained that leading position."

Rockefeller's chief Southern leaders are Robert Snodgrass of Atlanta, Southern regional chairman, and Michael Neal of Florida.

Douglass said they have consistently reported "wide latent strength" for Reagan in the South. But so long as Reagan said he was not a candidate for the nomination—which he still says—they listed themselves as supporters of Nixon.

"However," Douglass said, "the minute Reagan began looking like a true, viable candidate, their situation changed."

The Rockefeller camp has not written off the South, although the governor says his principal strength is in the industrial states of the North. His aides said that he could get votes for the nomination in Georgia and Alabama.

The governor's strategists estimate the combined Reagan-Rockefeller strength on the first ballot at between 500-600 votes. They give Nixon approximately 550. The minimum to win the nomination is 667 votes.

Woman Found Guilty In Car Charge Here

Mrs. Wilma Keener of 351 Ogden St. was found guilty of operating a car without due regard for the safety of a pedestrian following a hearing this morning in Municipal Court. She was fined $25 and costs.

office. There also will be an isolation room or padded cell designed for the mentally disturbed.

The boys' dorm section was designed to completely seclude them from exposure to the other prisoners. Aside from the cells, it includes two interrogation rooms, a recreation area, a shower room and a visiting area.

The women's area, which is also secluded from the other areas, provides a living area, a shower room, a visitors' room and a storage room.

The back portion of the third floor will not be used for any special purpose at the present time, but was designed to be made into a future intermediate courtroom.

Also on the third floor will be a law library and the Circuit Clerk's office. The transferring of this office from the Courthouse will double the space of the county clerk's office.

The interior decoration of the jail will be pre-stressed concrete paneling, glass, brick, ceramic glazed tile, formica paneling and tile floors.

Tax

president of the East Liverpool board in announcing the preparation of petitions, listed six reasons to support their position that "the transfer tax is unreasonable and unfair":

(1) It would be borne by only a small segment of Columbiana County property owners.

(2) It would make and create new hardships for low-income buyers when they try to qualify for home ownership.

(3) It would present an extra burden on most home buyers during periods when mortgage money is tight.

(4) It would not be reliable or constant source of tax revenue because the overall activity in the building and real estate business would determine the amount in revenues that could be expected.

(5) It would dampen the home resale business appreciably.

(6) It would create a new burden on a few taxpayers instead of affording relief to property owners by a lower property tax rate — this applies particularly to Senior Citizens.

Herron and Lowe said they view the 2-mill tax adopted by the commissioners "as totally impractical." "Home owners are already plagued by an excessive tax burden by being charged with a disproportionate amount for real estate taxes. This new tax burden will not only involve out-of-pocket cost to the purchases, but would also take much of the equity that the home owner has accumulated. We, therefore, feel the people of the county should be allowed to vote on this additional burden."

Earlier, going into the meeting, Ambassador W. Averell Harriman charged the leaders of North Vietnam with ruling "through terror and butchery" and they ought to give their people a little freedom.

Harriman also told newsmen as he entered the 15th meeting of the Vietnam peace talks that he intended to denounce North Vietnam for failure to live up to the 1962 agreement to neutralize Laos.

Harriman made the accusation against the North Vietnamese leaders when asked what he thought about recent jail sentences given by the Saigon government to critics or opponents.

"Have you seen any freedom in North Vietnam, in Hanoi?" Harriman responded.

"It would be a great thing for Hanoi to give a little freedom to the people there," he continued. "They impose their will through terror and butchery and so it's rather ill becoming for them to make any comment about freedom in other parts of the world."

Harriman told newsmen that "the North Vietnamese never kept the 1962 agreement (on Laos) for one day."

"One of the ways to make peace in Southeast Asia on a permanent basis," he said, "is for North Vietnam to leave its neighbors alone."

North Vietnam's chief delegate, Xuan Thuy, who has been slightly ill recently, did not attend today's session of the talks. His chief deputy, Col. Ha Van Lau, headed the delegation.

Dorothy Doesn't Miss 'Peyton Place'

Dorothy Malone has signed to guest on one of Phyllis Diller's new shows (NBC) which she will tape this week. It will be her first TV appearance since leaving "Peyton Place," where she spent four years as Constance Mackenzie Carson.

Hal Humphrey

"I didn't think I would be, but I actually felt relieved when I got away from 'Peyton Place,'" says Dorothy now, in her first interview since she and Tim O'Connor (Elliot Carson) bade farewell to the series last spring.

-:-

THE FIRST NEWS that she was through, however, came as a shock to Dorothy. She was one of the pivotal characters, after all, and had just been signed to a new contract.

"I received a call at home one morning from one of the directors, saying, 'As of episode No. 436, you're written out.' Later on Paul Monash, the executive producer, finally called me and confirmed it," recounts Dorothy.

She understood the cast and crew threw a farewell party for Tim and her, but she didn't attend.

"I don't think I could have stood it. I loved that crew and that would have been too much," she says.

THERE WERE rumors that Dorothy had wanted out of the series, but she says this was not true. She doesn't really know why she was dropped.

"A cut in the budget may have been one reason. I was making good money. Also, I don't think they wanted anyone to be too important to 'Peyton Place.' I never felt they really took advantage of my acting ability. They had writers doing practically the same scenes between me and Rachel that I'd done before with Allison. They could have put me in new situations, but didn't," says Dorothy.

One thing missing from her part, which Dorothy always resented, was some comedy and high spirits, which hardly ever were allowed to creep into the scripts. For six months, as Dorothy says, she was mostly moping around the house over the missing Allison (Mia Farrow) and doing nothing about locating her.

"That's why I was happy to do this Phyllis Diller show. I'm hoping it will give me a chance to show I can do comedy."

-:-

DESPITE the faults she found with her role, Dorothy says she had a strong loyalty for "Peyton Place." She did a lot of preliminary work on it before the story went on the air.

"They had trouble getting the show on because some sponsors were objecting. During the four years I was there I went to all the network conventions, too," she adds.

But the world of soap opera is a hard one, and every actor involved is constantly looking for a telltale sign in the script which may spell the end for him. In Dorothy's case, however, she had no such indication. The Carsons just suddenly decided to leave town.

There's been some mail from the fans, protecting the Carsons' being written out, but producers say there has been more mail from those objecting to Rodney Harrington and Betty Anderson's getting married again.

-:-

BEYOND her guest shot with Phyllis Diller, Dorothy has no definite plans. She and her two daughters (age 6 and 8) by ex-husband Jacques Bergerac have just returned from a Hawaiian vacation which they spent on the island of Kauai at Derby House, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall T. Derby, a Downey (Calif.) industrialist.

The Derbys have restored the historical old Hawaiian house for themselves and friends who may want to lease it.

Dorothy once made a speaking tour for an insurance company, and says she might like to do something again in the business field for some company.

"I might be keen on doing movies, if they'd get off this new kick and go back to the romantic type like the ones Carole Lombard and Greta Garbo did," says Dorothy.

HHH Assails President On Hunger Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today jabbed at both the Johnson administration and Congress in charging not enough has been done to combat hunger in the nation.

Humphrey, returning from a four-day campaign swing in California in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the nation needs "a strong president."

Humphrey's remarks were prepared for a National Association of Counties meeting.

He said neither Congress nor the administration—specificially the Department of Agriculture—had done enough to combat hunger in the United States.

"It is immoral to allow some babies to suffer from malnutrition while others in our population are concerned about the dangers of overeating," said Humphrey, and he added:

"Let me be perfectly candid—neither Congress nor the United States Department of Agriculture have made an adequate response to the severe problems of hunger and malnutrition we know exist in America."

Humphrey said there was no reason for anyone to be hungry in a land of "unequalled wealth and agriculture productivity."

The Humphrey campaign hopes to get a refueling of dollars at a $500-a-place dinner tonight in Washington.

Humphrey and his aides have acknowledged campaign money problems. Humphrey said Tuesday that the pinch had forced a cancellation, at least temporarily, of some advertising.

However, Humphrey is known to be watching over the money raising maachinery himself and expects the sitution to be eased if not remedied once the conventions are over. In addition, aides hope that tonight's affair will bring in as much as $1.5 million.

Humphrey, in talking to the county officials, said the new problems of government, local as well as national and often overlapping, require a reshaping of existing institutions.

"We need a strong and active president—one strong enough to shake up the federal bureaucracy and hammer out a structure which rewards, not frustrates, local innovation and responsibility," he said.

Beaver Appoints Aide In Domestic Relations Court

BEAVER — Hugh J. Grant of Sacramento, Calif., has been appointed by Beaver County Court as associate administrator in the Domestic Relations Division of the Court.

Grant will assist E. B. McNitt, present administrator.

TV Performer Upset By Hair-Curling Tale

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The kind of nightmare most women dread — being caught wearing haircurlers in public—came true for pretty Wendy Berk, but with a difference.

Thousands of televiewers saw the sophisticated TV personality do her one - girl advertising show blissfully unaware that two hair-curlers were holding her blonde tresses in place. Apparently none of the studio crew noticed the curlers, but moments after concluding the show, studio telephones were jammed with calls.

Some suggested it was all a joke. Others thought the new fashion rather becoming. A few males were not as admiring and a lot of women offered sympathy.

Wendy's only comment: "I just want to curl up and die."

BEAVER — Hugh J. Grant of Sacramento, Calif., has been appointed by Beaver County Court as associate administrator in the Domestic Relations Division of the Court.

Grant will assist E. B. McNitt, present administrator.

Judge Ralph J. Scalera said the appointment stems from the increasing use of the division and the rising number of cases.

TV Performer Upset By Hair-Curling Tale

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The kind of nightmare most women dread — being caught wearing haircurlers in public — came true for pretty Wendy Berk, but with a difference.

Thousands of televiewers saw the sophisticated TV personality do her one - girl advertising show blissfully unaware that two hair-curlers were holding her blonde tresses in place. Apparently none of the studio crew noticed the curlers, but moments after concluding the show, studio telephones were jammed with calls.

Some suggested it was all a joke. Others thought the new fashion rather becoming. A few males were not as admiring and a lot of women offered sympathy.

Wendy's only comment: "I just want to curl up and die."

HHH Assails President On Hunger Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today jabbed at both the Johnson administration and Congress in charging not enough has been done to combat hunger in the nation.

Humphrey, returning from a four-day campaign swing in California in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the nation needs "a strong president."

Humphrey's remarks were prepared for a National Association of Counties meeting.

He said neither Congress nor the administration—specificially the Department of Agriculture—had done enough to combat hunger in the United States.

"It is immoral to allow some babies to suffer from malnutrition while others in our population are concerned about the dangers of overeating," said Humphrey, and he added:

"Let me be perfectly candid—neither Congress nor the United States Department of Agriculture have made an adequate response to the severe problems of hunger and malnutrition we know exist in America."

Humphrey said there was no reason for anyone to be hungry in a land of "unequalled wealth and agriculture productivity."

The Humphrey campaign hopes to get a refueling of dollars at a $500-a-place dinner tonight in Washington.

Humphrey and his aides have acknowledged campaign money problems. Humphrey said Tuesday that the pinch had forced a cancellation, at least temporarily, of some advertising.

However, Humphrey is known to be watching over the money raising maachinery himself and expects the sitution to be eased if not remedied once the conventions are over. In addition, aides hope that tonight's affair will bring in as much as $1.5 million.

Humphrey, in talking to the county officials, said the new problems of government, local as well as national and often overlapping, require a reshaping of existing institutions.

"We need a strong and active president—one strong enough to shake up the federal bureaucracy and hammer out a structure which rewards, not frustrates, local innovation and responsibility," he said.

17 Buses Will Haul Students Here

Seventeen school buses—three more from the schools will be used to transport students of the East Liverpool school system to classrooms this fall.

Students living one mile or more from the schools wll be transported free of charge. Those living less than a mile from their respective buildings must walk or find other means of transportation, school officials said.

High school student registration for bus transportation will be conducted at the principal's office in the new high school on Aug. 21, 22 and 23. After registration, students will be issued passes which must be presented to the bus drivers.

Students at all other buildings will register at their own school.

Chaffee residence on Anderson Blvd.; the Nicely residence on Park Way; Fisher Ave. and St. Clair; 287 Gardendale St.; College St. and Pennsylvania Ave.; 510 Walnut St.; 570 Broadway Ave.; W. 9th St. and Fenton, and W. 6th St. and St. Clair.

Westgate boundaries are 720 Minerva St.; 1040 St. Clair Ave.; 1292 Dresden Ave.; 172 Ravine St.; 718 Bradshaw Ave.; 3rd and Broadway; 4th and Walnut; 1041 Peake St., and 735 Avondale St.

East Junior High boundaries are Mulberry and St. George St.; 1902 Michigan and Myrtle; 1831 Ohio Ave. for the upper part of Ohio Ave. and 900 Ohio Ave. for the lower part of Ohio Ave.

For those students attending East Elementary, the only change is 1848 Michigan and beyond. All other boundaries remain the same.

St. Aloysius students who live beyond 910 Vine St., 1000 Avondale St., Bradshaw and Ambrose, 1300 St. Clair and 1142 Lisbon St. will be transported.

For LaCroft students the boundaries are Hoffman Court, Old Route 30 and Westfield Rd. and Spring Grove. Any student beyond this will be transported.

BUS regulations which apply to supervision of students are set by the Ohio State Department of Education, school officials explained.

"While on the bus, the student is under the authority of and directly responsible to the bus driver. He is to conduct himself as he would in the classroom, except that reasonable visiting and conversation are permissible," Supt. Paul Blair said.

"Continued disorderly conduct or persistent refusals to submit to the authority of the driver shall be sufficient reason for refusing transportation service to any student," he added.

If it should become necessary to refuse a student transportation due to his misconduct, school authorities will present a full explanation of the action to the parents. The pupil will be denied transportation on the bus until the parent gives assurance of future good conduct on the part of the pupil, Blair explained.

The regulations further states that each student will have a regularly assigned seat, and is expected to stay in that seat while the bus is in motion.

School transportation officials here said they will follow the state regulations to the letter, with students being assigned seats for the first time.

If any parent desires further information concerning bus transportation, he should contact Clarence O'Hanlon or Curtis Miller, transportation coordinators. Their office is presently in the Central Building and the number to call is 385-7492.

Former VP To Make Decision

Nixon Aides Favor Risk To Win On First Ballot

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's top strategists now favor a risky, all-out attempt to win the Republican presidential nomination on the first ballot when the GOP convention votes one week from today.

The former vice president will make the final decision himself early next week on whether to attempt to grab off the nomination at the first chance or play it cool for a second ballot opportunity.

He will lean heavily in this decision on the advice of his campaign manager, John N. Mitchell, Richard Kleindienst, Robert Ellsworth, R. J. Haldeman, and Herbert G. Klein, his press director. They make up the inner circle of Nixon's advisers.

There are some out-sized political risks involved in a blitz attempt. Failure conceivably could cost Nixon the nomination.

The tactical move would involve riding roughshod over favorite son candidates who might be more amenable to supporting Nixon after they have had a moment of glory on national television with formal nomination for the nation's highest office.

Beyond this, however, lies the political desire of these heads of state delegations to claim they supplied the necessary votes for the nomination of the party's standard bearer when he needed them.

A first-ballot victory would subject Nixon to charges that "bosses" had chosen the nominee without free consideration by the delegates of whether he was the man most likely to win in November.

The arguments against this put forth by the Nixon advisers were simple: No contender bows to protocol if the nomination is within his grasp. Nixon won all of the GOP primaries and thus is the popular choice of a majority of delegates.

Backers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller indicated they hope Nixon puts all of his chips on the line at the start.

William E. Miller, former party national chairman and the 1964 nominee for vice president, said the Governor's camp is already to combat alternate strategy moves by Nixon.

"As we see it," Miller said in an interview, "Nixon has only two courses open. He can go for the nomination on the first ballot or he can sit tight and let the favorite sons have their votes and then try it on the second ballot.

"If he doesn't break apart the favorite son vote on the first roll call, then he's in trouble. If he decides to wait until the second ballot then he will be in trouble because I don't think the favorite sons are going with him. If it gets by the second ballot, Rockefeller is going to be the nominee."

Both sides agreed privately that the key individuals involved in this tug of war are Govs. Ronald Reagan of California, George Romney of Michigan, James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland.

Miller spoke hopefully of Rockefeller's chances of convincing the delegates he was the nominee they needed to win in November.

Miller said a poll taken by the Rockefeller group showed that as head of the ticket the New York governor would pull marginal district Republicans through in congressional races in New Jersey, Ohio, North Dakota, Kentucky, Michigan and Rhode Island who would lose if Nixon were the nominee.

"These congressional contests are going to have impact on delegations from these states," Miller said. "These people want a local winner."

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City came to town to testify before the convention's platform committee. He proclaimed on arrival that he doesn't want to be anybody's runningmate.

In sharp contrast, Gov. Claude V. Kirk Jr. of Florida, who has come out for Rockefeller, told a reporter: "I'd even run on Harold Stassen's ticket."

Stassen, a perennial candidate for any available office, told a news conference he was confident he would emerge as the compromise presidential nominee.

Lindsay, who has been mentioned as a possible choice by Nixon for second place on the ticket because of the mayor's appeal to Negro and low income voters, was more emphatic than usual in saying that he doesn't want to be considered for the job.

Mexico City Again Hit By Student Riot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico City was a battle ground again Tuesday as mobs of young people ran wild through the city, fighting police, wrecking city buses and throwing rocks and bottles.

At least one person was dead, more than 400 were injured and at least 1,100 persons had been arrested since antigovernment rioting began last Friday.

Officials claimed the riots were Communist inspired and said they were the worst Mexico's capital has experienced in 20 years.

Tuesday night club-wielding students braved a heavy rain and hijacked four city buses after forcing terrified passengers to flee. Then they ran the vehicles into the sides of buildings.

Earlier, Army troops fired volleys of shots into the air and dispersed the students. The troops were withdrawan, but the mobs returned, marching from the old university section, and seized the buses near the city's central square.

Riot squads swinging long batons dispersed that crowd, but at least 3,000 of the youths gathered half a mile away near a teacher's college. Their leaders used bugle calls and walkie talkies to control them. They swarmed over buses and a trolley car, smashing windows and running the vehicles onto the sidewalks.

The United States bases its claim to the Swan Islands on the fact that, in 1893, Capt. Alonzo Adams came upon them by chance. He planted a flag and claimed the islands in the name of the United States.

India Will Begin New Land Plan

NEW DELHI (AP) — A revolutionary experiment in landholding will be tried in Uttar Kashi district bordering Communist Chinese ruled Tibet.

Under the inspiration of the land-gift movement leader, Acharya Vinoba Bhave, the entire untilled land will be owned by the villages for purposes of cultivation.

Uttar Kashi is the northwesternmost district of India's most populous state, Utar Pradesh.

The spiritual heir of India's Gandi, Bhave has been touring India collecting land for distribution among the landless.

"The key to the solution of poverty in Asia lies in the equitable distribution of land which like air and water is God-given and must be owned by the entire community in a cooperative way," Bhave says.

NEW DELHI (AP) — A revolutionary experiment in landholding will be tried in Uttar Kashi district bordering Communist Chinese ruled Tibet.

Under the inspiration of the land-gift movement leader, Acharya Vinoba Bhave, the entire untilled land will be owned by the villages for purposes of cultivation.

Uttar Kashi is the northwesternmost district of India's most populous state, Utar Pradesh.

The spiritual heir of India's Gandi, Bhave has been touring India collecting land for distribution among the landless.

"The key to the solution of poverty in Asia lies in the equitable distribution of land which like air and water is God-given and must be owned by the entire community in a cooperative way," Bhave says.

Former VP To Make Decision

Nixon Aides Favor Risk To Win On First Ballot

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's top strategists now favor a risky, all-out attempt to win the Republican presidential nomination on the first ballot when the GOP convention votes one week from today.

The former vice president will make the final decision himself early next week on whether to attempt to grab off the nomination at the first chance or play it cool for a second ballot opportunity.

He will lean heavily in this decision on the advice of his campaign manager, John N. Mitchell, Richard Kleindienst, Robert Ellsworth, R. J. Haldeman, and Herbert G. Klein, his press director. They make up the inner circle of Nixon's advisers.

There are some out-sized political risks involved in a blitz attempt. Failure conceivably could cost Nixon the nomination.

The tactical move would involve riding roughshod over favorite son candidates who might be more amenable to supporting Nixon after they have had a moment of glory on national television with formal nomination for the nation's highest office.

Beyond this, however, lies the political desire of these heads of state delegations to claim they supplied the necessary votes for the nomination of the party's standard bearer when he needed them.

A first-ballot victory would subject Nixon to charges that "bosses" had chosen the nominee without free consideration by the delegates of whether he was the man most likely to win in November.

The arguments against this put forth by the Nixon advisers were simple: No contender bows to protocol if the nomination is within his grasp. Nixon won all of the GOP primaries and thus is the popular choice of a majority of delegates.

Backers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller indicated they hope Nixon puts all of his chips on the line at the start.

William E. Miller, former party national chairman and the 1964 nominee for vice president, said the Governor's camp is already to combat alternate strategy moves by Nixon.

"As we see it," Miller said in an interview, "Nixon has only two courses open. He can go for the nomination on the first ballot or he can sit tight and let the favorite sons have their votes and then try it on the second ballot.

"If he doesn't break apart the favorite son vote on the first roll call, then he's in trouble. If he decides to wait until the second ballot then he will be in trouble because I don't think the favorite sons are going with him. If it gets by the second ballot, Rockefeller is going to be the nominee."

Both sides agreed privately that the key individuals involved in this tug of war are Govs. Ronald Reagan of California, George Romney of Michigan, James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland.

Miller spoke hopefully of Rockefeller's chances of convincing the delegates he was the nominee they needed to win in November.

Miller said a poll taken by the Rockefeller group showed that as head of the ticket the New York governor would pull marginal district Republicans through in congressional races in New Jersey, Ohio, North Dakota, Kentucky, Michigan and Rhode Island who would lose if Nixon were the nominee.

"These congressional contests are going to have impact on delegations from these states," Miller said. "These people want a local winner."

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City came to town to testify before the convention's platform committee. He proclaimed on arrival that he doesn't want to be anybody's runningmate.

In sharp contrast, Gov. Claude V. Kirk Jr. of Florida, who has come out for Rockefeller, told a reporter: "I'd even run on Harold Stassen's ticket."

Stassen, a perennial candidate for any available office, told a news conference he was confident he would emerge as the compromise presidential nominee.

Lindsay, who has been mentioned as a possible choice by Nixon for second place on the ticket because of the mayor's appeal to Negro and low income voters, was more emphatic than usual in saying that he doesn't want to be considered for the job.

Mexico City Again Hit By Student Riot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico City was a battle ground again Tuesday as mobs of young people ran wild through the city, fighting police, wrecking city buses and throwing rocks and bottles.

At least one person was dead, more than 400 were injured and at least 1,100 persons had been arrested since antigovernment rioting began last Friday.

Officials claimed the riots were Communist inspired and said they were the worst Mexico's capital has experienced in 20 years.

Tuesday night club-wielding students braved a heavy rain and hijacked four city buses after forcing terrified passengers to flee. Then they ran the vehicles into the sides of buildings.

Earlier, Army troops fired volleys of shots into the air and dispersed the students. The troops were withdrawan, but the mobs returned, marching from the old university section, and seized the buses near the city's central square.

Riot squads swinging long batons dispersed that crowd, but at least 3,000 of the youths gathered half a mile away near a teacher's college. Their leaders used bugle calls and walkie talkies to control them. They swarmed over buses and a trolley car, smashing windows and running the vehicles onto the sidewalks.

The United States bases its claim to the Swan Islands on the fact that, in 1893, Capt. Alonzo Adams came upon them by chance. He planted a flag and claimed the islands in the name of the United States.

Ed Fleming, former Niagara and NBA star familiar to East Liverpool basketball fans as the coach of Pittsburgh Westinghouse High School, is one of the star cagers who have been holding basketball clinics for kids in Pittsburgh this summer.

Fleming, 35, looks younger and keeps in shape by playing in a summer basketball league with such stars as Connie Hawkins of the Pittsburgh (now Minnesota) Pipers, MVP in the American Basketball League; Sihugo Green, former Duquesne All-American and NBA star; Jim McCoy, Farrell and Michigan State ace, and Walt Mangham, New Castle, Marquette and Pittsburgh Ren cager. Hawkins, McCoy and Mangham have helped Fleming at some of the clinics.

IN THIS YEAR of low ERAs for pitchers, Joe Niekro of the Cubs is an exception. His ERA is about 4.50, second worst among regulars in the league, but he has a 10-6 record. Niekro is especially tough on the Pirates. He notes that he tries harder against Pittsburgh because he always wanted to sign with the Bucs and they showed no interest. Joe and his knuckleballing brother Phil, of the Braves, come from the Bellaire area.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY will not be represented by a player in the annual Ohio North-South all-star football game in Canton Aug. 9. Closest is Steve Betz, a guard for Minerva in the Tri-County League.

VIC BIANCHI, who taught at Midland High and coached at Quigley High this past season, has been named head basketball coach at Ambridge High, replacing Chuck DeVenzio, who moved to North Hills. Bianchi was head coach at Coraopolis for three years prior to 1967-68, compiling a 67-11 mark there.

HIHS, North Side A.C. Advance At Midland

The HIHS League All-Stars and the North Side Athletic Club of East Liverpool advanced to the semi-finals of the Midland Hot Stove League baseball toornament with wins last night.

North Side had to go eight innings to edge Sooth Side 5-3 and HIHS blanked Travelers Hotel 4-0.

North Side and South Side were tied 1-1 after six. Dick Chema, who had a homer and two doubles, doubled in the winning runs in the eighth. Greg Golding was the winning pitcher in relief and Mark Fabbro took the loss. Mark Williamson had three hits and Keith Waxler and Paul Amos two each for the losers.

Jon Talbott of Highlandtown shut out Travelers, the East Liverpool regular season champions, on five hits and slammed a homer in his own behalf. Bill Allen contributed three hits for HIHS. Steve Baker had two hits and Rikki Campbell a double for the losers. Bob Boughner took the loss.

In Thursday's semi-finals Midland will play Freedom and North Side will take on HIHS. Boh games start at 6:15. In Friday's final the first ball will be thrown by "Lunch" Andres, long time commissioner of the Midland Hot Stove League.

Meeting Tomorrow

The Southern Local athletic boosters will hold their first meeting of the 1968-69 season tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the school.

President George Kellson notes that coaches, parents and the public are invited to attend.

Ciotti Winner

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 lost its first game in the Columbiana County American Legion double-elimination tournament, falling 2-1 at Salem last night.

Jim Ciotti was the winning pitcher and Bill Montgomery the loser. Don Hancock singled in Tom Chambers with the only Post 374 run. Salem got an unearned run in the sixth to win the game.

East Liverpool will now play the winner of the Columbiana-Leetonia game at a time to be determined. Salem is 2-0, while the loser of the Columbiana-Leetonia game is eliminated.

Post 374 also must play Weirton for the Northern Division title of the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference Legion League, and the date for this game is also to be determined.

Pirates Sweep Braves, Reds Take Second Place

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Gibson, who's been dealing almost exclusively in zeros for two months, shrugs off an occasional odd number on the scoreboard.

Tony Cloninger hardly can afford the luxury.

Gibson's latest shutout string was severed at 23 innings Tuesday night but the St. Louis ace breezed past the New York Mets 7-1 for his 12th consecutive victory.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati's Cloninger, whose next shutout will be his first in two years, blanked Philadelphia on three hits for seven innings but had to settle for relief help and a 5-2 victory that sent the Reds into second place in the National League.

Cloninger, acquired from Atlanta in a trade last month after an injury-plagued 1967 flop with the Braves, failed to go the distance for the 17th time in as many starts this season.

Pittsburgh swept a twi-night doubleheader from Atlanta 8-5 and 5-4 in 10 innings, dropping the slump-ridden Braves from the runner-up spot to third. Los Angeles edged Houston 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs trampled San Francisco 10-4.

Gibson checked the Mets on five hits, including a run-scoring double by Ed Kranepool in the fourth inning, in boosting his season mark to 15-5. Eight of his victories have been shutouts and he has allowed just three runs in 101 innings since June 2.

With an earned run average of 0.96, the 33-year-old fireballer is zeroing in on Grover Cleveland Alexander's all-time ERA mark of 1.22, set in 1915.

The Cardinals made it a cakewalk for Gibson Tuesday night by striking for five runs in the fourth inning, with Julian Javier's two-run single the key blow. The league leaders' 23rd victory in 29 games this month gave them a 14-game bulge over the Reds.

Rookie Johnny Bench cracked his ninth homer as Cincinnati staked Cloninger to a 5-0 lead over the floundering Phillies. But Tony Taylor opened the Phils' eighth with a single, then kicked the ball out of Woody Woodward's hand as the Cincy shortstop tried to start a double play on Roberto Pena's grounder.

When Cloninger got behind Johnny Callison 2-0, Manager Dave Bristol yanked him. The Phillies went on to score twice against Clay Carroll before the reliever nailed Cloninger's third victory in nine decisions.

"Though he kept his pitches well under control, at the end he lost it," said Reds pitching coach Mel Harder of Cloninger's near-miss. "It's almost spring training for Tony since he hasn't pitched much this year or last year. It will take him a while to catch up."

The Pirates extended Atlanta's losing string to five games when Matty Alou scampered home from third in the 10th inning of the nightcap as the Braves failed to turn over a double play on Manny Mota's hopper.

CLEVELAND (AP) — You wouldn't figure to find too many smiling faces in the Washington locker room after a 10-1 loss to Cleveland Tuesday night. There was one, Ron Hansen's.

He had an unassisted triple play.

"It just happened," the Senators' shortstop said. "It wasn't a pre-thought thing."

He became the eighth major league player ever to pull the play and the first in 41 years. John Neun, a first baseman for Detroit, and Chicago Cubs' shortstop Jim Cooney did it in 1927.

The Indians had men on first and second and the hit-and-run sign flashed in the first inning when Joe Azcue lined one down to Hansen.

He grabbed the liner, stepped on second to double Dave Nelson and got Russ Snyder coming down from first. Snyder knew he was caught and didn't even try to make it back.

"I knew there were no outs and when I tagged Snyder I knew I had it," Hansen said. "But the importance of the play didn't dawn on me."

Bill Wambsganss of Cleveland is the only player to have an unassisted triple play in a World Series — in 1920. Others were shortstop Neal Ball of Cleveland in 1909, first baseman George Burns of the Boston Red Sox in 1923, shortstop Ernie Padgett of the Boston Braves in 1923 and shortstop Glenn Wright of Pittsburgh in 1925.

Fleming, 35, looks younger and keeps in shape by playing in a summer basketball league with such stars as Connie Hawkins of the Pittsburgh (now Minnesota) Pipers, MVP in the American Basketball League; Sihugo Green, former Duquesne All-American and NBA star; Jim McCoy, Farrell and Michigan State ace, and Walt Mangham, New Castle, Marquette and Pittsburgh Ren cager. Hawkins, McCoy and Mangham have helped Fleming at some of the clinics.

IN THIS YEAR of low ERAs for pitchers, Joe Niekro of the Cubs is an exception. His ERA is about 4.50, second worst among regulars in the league, but he has a 10-6 record. Niekro is especially tough on the Pirates. He notes that he tries harder against Pittsburgh because he always wanted to sign with the Bucs and they showed no interest. Joe and his knuckleballing brother Phil, of the Braves, come from the Bellaire area.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY will not be represented by a player in the annual Ohio North-South all-star football game in Canton Aug. 9. Closest is Steve Betz, a guard for Minerva in the Tri-County League.

VIC BIANCHI, who taught at Midland High and coached at Quigley High this past season, has been named head basketball coach at Ambridge High, replacing Chuck DeVenzio, who moved to North Hills. Bianchi was head coach at Coraopolis for three years prior to 1967-68, compiling a 67-11 mark there.

Pirates Sweep Braves, Reds Take Second Place

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Gibson, who's been dealing almost exclusively in zeros for two months, shrugs off an occasional odd number on the scoreboard.

Tony Cloninger hardly can afford the luxury.

Gibson's latest shutout string was severed at 23 innings Tuesday night but the St. Louis ace breezed past the New York Mets 7-1 for his 12th consecutive victory.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati's Cloninger, whose next shutout will be his first in two years, blanked Philadelphia on three hits for seven innings but had to settle for relief help and a 5-2 victory that sent the Reds into second place in the National League.

Cloninger, acquired from Atlanta in a trade last month after an injury-plagued 1967 flop with the Braves, failed to go the distance for the 17th time in as many starts this season.

Pittsburgh swept a twi-night doubleheader from Atlanta 8-5 and 5-4 in 10 innings, dropping the slump-ridden Braves from the runner-up spot to third. Los Angeles edged Houston 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs trampled San Francisco 10-4.

Gibson checked the Mets on five hits, including a run-scoring double by Ed Kranepool in the fourth inning, in boosting his season mark to 15-5. Eight of his victories have been shutouts and he has allowed just three runs in 101 innings since June 2.

With an earned run average of 0.96, the 33-year-old fireballer is zeroing in on Grover Cleveland Alexander's all-time ERA mark of 1.22, set in 1915.

The Cardinals made it a cakewalk for Gibson Tuesday night by striking for five runs in the fourth inning, with Julian Javier's two-run single the key blow. The league leaders' 23rd victory in 29 games this month gave them a 14-game bulge over the Reds.

Rookie Johnny Bench cracked his ninth homer as Cincinnati staked Cloninger to a 5-0 lead over the floundering Phillies. But Tony Taylor opened the Phils' eighth with a single, then kicked the ball out of Woody Woodward's hand as the Cincy shortstop tried to start a double play on Roberto Pena's grounder.

When Cloninger got behind Johnny Callison 2-0, Manager Dave Bristol yanked him. The Phillies went on to score twice against Clay Carroll before the reliever nailed Cloninger's third victory in nine decisions.

"Though he kept his pitches well under control, at the end he lost it," said Reds pitching coach Mel Harder of Cloninger's near-miss. "It's almost spring training for Tony since he hasn't pitched much this year or last year. It will take him a while to catch up."

The Pirates extended Atlanta's losing string to five games when Matty Alou scampered home from third in the 10th inning of the nightcap as the Braves failed to turn over a double play on Manny Mota's hopper.

Hookstown, Lawrenceville Win Games

Hookstown and Lawrenceville were the winners in South Side Athletic Division senior division games Tuesday night.

Hookstown stomped Newell 16-0 and Lawrenceville had to go 11 innings to edge Hanover.

Sam Laughlin was the winner for Hookstown and Ron Heffner took the loss for Newell. Laughlin and Ed Ashcroft had four hits each, Larry Anderson two homers, Bruce Potts three hits and Jeff Wilson and Andy McHaffie two hits each. Heffner had two hits for the losers.

Dan Heizler won for Lawrenceville in relief. Larry Cox was the loser in relief. Randy Brown, John Mumaw and Rick Strosnider had two hits each for Lawrenceville and Lloyd Cox three hits for Hanover.

HIHS, North Side A.C. Advance At Midland

The HIHS League All-Stars and the North Side Athletic Club of East Liverpool advanced to the semi-finals of the Midland Hot Stove League baseball toornament with wins last night.

North Side had to go eight innings to edge Sooth Side 5-3 and HIHS blanked Travelers Hotel 4-0.

North Side and South Side were tied 1-1 after six. Dick Chema, who had a homer and two doubles, doubled in the winning runs in the eighth. Greg Golding was the winning pitcher in relief and Mark Fabbro took the loss. Mark Williamson had three hits and Keith Waxler and Paul Amos two each for the losers.

Jon Talbott of Highlandtown shut out Travelers, the East Liverpool regular season champions, on five hits and slammed a homer in his own behalf. Bill Allen contributed three hits for HIHS. Steve Baker had two hits and Rikki Campbell a double for the losers. Bob Boughner took the loss.

In Thursday's semi-finals Midland will play Freedom and North Side will take on HIHS. Boh games start at 6:15. In Friday's final the first ball will be thrown by "Lunch" Andres, long time commissioner of the Midland Hot Stove League.

Indians Overcome Nats, Keep Pace With Tigers

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Hansen of Washington pulled off the first unassisted triple play in the major leagues in 41 years, but it didn't take the Cleveland Indians long to get over it.

After falling victim to Hansen in the first inning Tuesday night, the Indians went on to build up an 8-0 lead by the end of the fifth en route to a 10-1 breeze over the Senators.

"It was an easy game—after we got eight runs ahead," joked Cleveland manager Al Dark.

The Detroit Tigers and Baltimore, who had no problems with triple plays, also had easy times as the American League race remained at the status quo.

Detroit rolled behind Earl Wilson's hitting and pitching to a 5-0 victory over the New York Yankees after the Orioles used six runs in the seventh inning to bomb Boston 8-3 in the afternoon.

The Tigers still lead the Orioles and Indians by seven games.

Frank Howard gave Washington a 1-0 lead in the second with his 30th homer, but the Indians recovered by the fourth inning when Lee Maye slammed a two-run double.

Cleveland added six more runs in the fifth as Jose Cardenal doubled in three and scored on Maye's single. Cardinal drove in another run in the seventh and Sam McDowell coasted to his 11th victory in 20 decisions with a six-hitter.

Wilson was the big man for Detroit. He and Dick McAuliffe hit consecutive homers to open the third inning against Mel Stottlemyre, 13-8. The big right-hander gave up only three hits before Daryl Patterson relieved when the first hitter in the ninth walked. Patterson saved Wilson's ninth triumph against eight losses.

Brooks Robinson broke a scoreless tie for Baltimore with a two-run single in the sixth inning and singled in another marker in the big seventh.

Jim Hardin, 13-6, stifled the Red Sox on four hits until Jose Tartabull singled in the eighth, Carl Yastrzemski doubled him home and Ken Harrelson whacked his 24th homer.

Sal Bando singled in a first inning run for Oakland after Bert Campaneris singled and stole second and third, and then Bando broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth with another single after Rick Monday tripled. Campaneris knocked in the final run in the sixth with another hit.

Chuck Dobson, 8-11, with relief from Jack Aker in the eighth, got the victory.

Against Packers

Beban, Landry Passing All-Stars' Chief Hope

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars, a 16-point underdog, has a potentially hot passing attack going for them against the mighty Green Bay Packers in the 35th All-Star football game Friday night.

Overall, the pros hold a 23-9-2 margin in the Soldier Field spectacle started in 1935. The last time the collegians won was in 1963 with a 20-17 shading of the Packers.

In other recent upsets, the All-Stars triumphed 35-19 over the Detroit Lions in 1958, after previously winning in 1955, nipping the Cleveland Browns 30-27, and—five seasons earlier—in 1950, by 17-7 over the Philadelphia Eagles.

If Norm Van Brocklin, former Minnesota Viking coach is to make a successful All-Star coaching debut Friday night, his quarterback doo of Gary Beban of UCLA and Greg Landry of Massachusetts probably will have to blaze away as successfully as Wisconsin's Ron Vanderkelen did in the 1963 derailing of the Packers and Michigan State's Jim Ninowski in the 1958 trimming of the Lions.

Beban and Landry, both highly regarded pro prospects for the Washington Redskins and Lions respectively, seemingly have the grab-and-take-off receivers to cause the Packers trouble.

It was Vanderkelen's 74-yard pass play with Badgermate Pat Richter which beat the Packers in 1963. In the 1958 All-Star triumph, Ninowski's shots to fleet Bobby Mitchell of Illinois demoralized the Lions.

Indians Overcome Nats, Keep Pace With Tigers

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Hansen of Washington pulled off the first unassisted triple play in the major leagues in 41 years, but it didn't take the Cleveland Indians long to get over it.

After falling victim to Hansen in the first inning Tuesday night, the Indians went on to build up an 8-0 lead by the end of the fifth en route to a 10-1 breeze over the Senators.

"It was an easy game—after we got eight runs ahead," joked Cleveland manager Al Dark.

The Detroit Tigers and Baltimore, who had no problems with triple plays, also had easy times as the American League race remained at the status quo.

Detroit rolled behind Earl Wilson's hitting and pitching to a 5-0 victory over the New York Yankees after the Orioles used six runs in the seventh inning to bomb Boston 8-3 in the afternoon.

The Tigers still lead the Orioles and Indians by seven games.

Frank Howard gave Washington a 1-0 lead in the second with his 30th homer, but the Indians recovered by the fourth inning when Lee Maye slammed a two-run double.

Cleveland added six more runs in the fifth as Jose Cardenal doubled in three and scored on Maye's single. Cardinal drove in another run in the seventh and Sam McDowell coasted to his 11th victory in 20 decisions with a six-hitter.

Wilson was the big man for Detroit. He and Dick McAuliffe hit consecutive homers to open the third inning against Mel Stottlemyre, 13-8. The big right-hander gave up only three hits before Daryl Patterson relieved when the first hitter in the ninth walked. Patterson saved Wilson's ninth triumph against eight losses.

Brooks Robinson broke a scoreless tie for Baltimore with a two-run single in the sixth inning and singled in another marker in the big seventh.

Jim Hardin, 13-6, stifled the Red Sox on four hits until Jose Tartabull singled in the eighth, Carl Yastrzemski doubled him home and Ken Harrelson whacked his 24th homer.

Sal Bando singled in a first inning run for Oakland after Bert Campaneris singled and stole second and third, and then Bando broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth with another single after Rick Monday tripled. Campaneris knocked in the final run in the sixth with another hit.

Chuck Dobson, 8-11, with relief from Jack Aker in the eighth, got the victory.

Against Packers

Beban, Landry Passing All-Stars' Chief Hope

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars, a 16-point underdog, has a potentially hot passing attack going for them against the mighty Green Bay Packers in the 35th All-Star football game Friday night.

Overall, the pros hold a 23-9-2 margin in the Soldier Field spectacle started in 1935. The last time the collegians won was in 1963 with a 20-17 shading of the Packers.

In other recent upsets, the All-Stars triumphed 35-19 over the Detroit Lions in 1958, after previously winning in 1955, nipping the Cleveland Browns 30-27, and—five seasons earlier—in 1950, by 17-7 over the Philadelphia Eagles.

If Norm Van Brocklin, former Minnesota Viking coach is to make a successful All-Star coaching debut Friday night, his quarterback doo of Gary Beban of UCLA and Greg Landry of Massachusetts probably will have to blaze away as successfully as Wisconsin's Ron Vanderkelen did in the 1963 derailing of the Packers and Michigan State's Jim Ninowski in the 1958 trimming of the Lions.

Beban and Landry, both highly regarded pro prospects for the Washington Redskins and Lions respectively, seemingly have the grab-and-take-off receivers to cause the Packers trouble.

It was Vanderkelen's 74-yard pass play with Badgermate Pat Richter which beat the Packers in 1963. In the 1958 All-Star triumph, Ninowski's shots to fleet Bobby Mitchell of Illinois demoralized the Lions.

Bomb Explosion Damages British Consulate Office

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bomb explosion which authorities believe may have been triggered by anti-Castro Cubans has caused extensive damage to the British consulate offices.

The blast tore through the consulate Tuesday at 7:10 p.m., an hour after the 26 employes went home for the day. No one was injured and there was no fire, police reported.

The consulate offices are on the fourth floor of a Wilshire Boulevard building. Occupants of the building were quickly evacuated and police sped officers to the offices and homes of other consuls.

Police said the outside corridor and door leading to the office were wrecked. Furnishings were overturned, and glass and other objects were strewn about the floor.

Authorities said anti-Castro terrorists may have placed the bomb in retaliation for Britain's relations with the Castro government.

There have been similar bombings in New York City, Miami, Chicago and Newark.

Grinding Crash Injures 9 And Snarls Traffic

CINCINNATI (AP)—A grinding traffic crash on Wooster Pike near here Tuesday — involving an ambulance, a tractor trailer truck and two autos — injured nine persons and backed traffic in both directions for miles.

Scene of the accident was just outside Mariemont, near a road sign which reads: "This is the most dangerous stretch of highway in Ohio." The sign was erected several years ago when Wooster Pike accidents and fatalities mounted at an alarming rate.

Only one of the injured was reported in critical condition. She was Vickie Jackson, 9, of near Newtown, taken to a Mariemont hospital.

Hamilton County sheriff's deputies said an eastbound car apparently crossed the center line and struck an auto, then veered into the eastbound lane and hit the rear of the truck — then careened back into the opposite lane, striking the ambulance.

ANN LANDERS

Not Just Preacher's Kids

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I saw myself in that letter from the 16-year-old minister's daughter who was consumed with guilt because she had let a boy kiss her. Your advice was excellent. I hope she takes it.

My brother and I were P.K.'s (Preacher's Kids). We were taught that sex was sinful and nasty. I was 17 when a boy kissed me on the way home from a church picnic. My father was riding in the car behind us. He saw this. I was punished so severely I was determined to get even. So I became pregnant by a no good bum. My parents sent me to another state and I never did return home after that.

My brother married a very quiet girl (another P.K.) at age 23. Within two years his wife had a nervous breakdown and she later sued him for divorce. The reason: He used to sneak out of the house at night and take up with street tramps. Why? Because he had such a low opinion of sex he couldn't function with a respectable partner. He needed a gutter type.

Fortunately my brother and I have had intensive therapy and are now living decent lives, but we were luckier than most. Please keep telling the teen-agers that sex is nothing to be ashamed of, that properly used it can be beautiful and a meaningful part of life. In fact you ought to write a book about it. — ARKANSAS MRS.

Dear MRS.: I did — three years ago. It is called "Ann Landers Talks to Teen-Agers About Sex" and can be purchased in paperback for 50 cents. But let's get something straight, Lady, I don't buy your implied cliche about preachers' kids. Some of my best friends are P.K.'s — and the conflict between parent and child that you describe happens in all professions. The dedicated ministers I know raise fine children.

Freedom Fighter

Dear Ann: After publishing the letter signed "Pilloried," I'll bet you are the pin-up girl of every divorced man in the United States. My own soon-to-be-shed spouse mailed that column to me and attached a note which read: "See, just like us."

Undoubtedly some men do get picked clean by conniving wives but a few of us deserve whatever we can get from the low-life skunks.

When Guy and I were married, his folks sold their home, bought a trailer and moved to our backyard. Guy has never made an independent decision. It was always, "I'll have to ask Dad."

For 11 years I served Guy his coffee in bed. When I was sick with the flu he went fishing because he was afraid he'd catch it if he "hung around."

I could have tolerated his disregard for me, but I couldn't stand the way he ignored his children. He said it was a woman's job to look after the kids, so he didn't even talk to them.

The day his son waited four hours for his dad to come and take him to a ball game — and then called to say he couldn't make it — was the day I decided to get a divorce.

We have $60,000 saved in cash and bonds. I want $500 a month plus $75 support for each child. (We have three.) He is screaming like a stuck pig.

I'm asking you to break your rule and print my letter even though you are dead set against divorce. Granted, there's no such thing as a good divorce, but it beats living a lifetime with a mama's boy who's no father, no husband and no human being. — FREEDOM IT'S BEAUTIFUL.

Dear Beautiful: Here's your letter. Surprised to see it in print? I thought you'd be.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

The Far Eastern Touch

DEAR HELOISE: If you are going to make your own bedspread out of some really beautiful material . . . go all out and buy more than you need for the spread.

Heloise

When I finished the spread, I literally "papered" the wall behind the bed with a strip of matching material. My stripe was the width of the bed and ran from behind the headboard to the ceiling.

I didn't really paste it to the wall. I stretched it tight and tacked it around the edges. Then I framed the material (hiding the tacks) with wooden molding I bought at a lumber yard.

My material was royal purple. So for a striking contrast, I bought some brass oriental wall plaques and hung them in steps across the material.

Really terrific for a little cost.

When my ex-serviceman husband walked in, he said he thought he was back in the Far East.

I wonder what he is going to say when I have him build a valance across the top of the wall strip and I hang narrow red curtains down each side?

MARGE.

He will probably say it looks like an Emperor's bed with a canopy!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To mothers whose children have cone machines:

I have found that ice cubes made with cool-milk mixes make into very tasty cones. As the ice cubes do not freeze as solid this way, they are much easier for little ones to grind up in their machines.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Please correct the misspelled words if you print this letter. I plan to teach school this fall and it would never do to let people know that teachers sometimes don't know how to spell. I'm the world's worst!

TEACHER.

Hon, you have plenty of competition (including me) for the title of "The World's Worst Speller." Don't feel bad.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always apply hand lotion or cream to my hands before slipping on my rubber gloves to do dishes.

Heat is a good softener, and this does wonders for my hands. Try it and see how nice and soft your hands will feel.

MARIE C.

DEAR HELOISE: Way back, I remember your hint about putting decals on a sliding glass door to keep people from walking into them when they are closed.

Well, the other day I was talking to a Veterinarian and he said that he had treated many large dogs that had run through glass doors. They usually got cut and often broke a front leg.

So why not also put decals on the glass at dog's-eye level?

Of course, Chihuahuas and Pekingese may not break the glass but they sure can get a knot on their heads if they run into it.

DOG LOVER.

DEAR HELOISE: I am an amateur gardner, and would like to pass this tip along. . .

We grow tomatoes, but just when they are ripe, the birds pick ugly holes in them.

After trying about everything, we found that if we strung pieces of foil on black sewing thread between the stakes, from plant to plant, that it kept the birds out.

This does not harm the birds — it just prevents them from flying between the rows to pick at our tomatoes.

MRS. FREDRICK WATT.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't chase that paraffin wax on your jelly jars to the bottom of the jar. Just take off the lid, run some hot water over the wax and let it set a few minutes — while you put a pot of coffee on.

Presto, the wax comes out as easy as can be.

2 Boys Cited In Wounding Of Policemen

The boys, aged 17 and 16, are scheduled to appear in court Thursday.

Another youth accused of taking part in the sniper battle, Alfred Thomas, 19, is to appear in municipal court Aug. 7 charged with shooting with intent to kill. He is being held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Police hired a power shovel Tuesday to dig through the ruins of a building in a search for the bodies of more snipers. None was found.

The building was burned while snipers inside exchanged shots with police.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes and Police Chief Michael J. Blackwell Tuesday visited some of the injured policemen in city hospitals.

Sixty attended the 25th reunion of the Chester High School class of 1943 Saturday night at the VFW home in Chester.

Dinner followed a social hour at 6.

Sanford Graham, president of the class, presided.

The last will and testament was read by Mrs. Leonard Copestick, who also read correspondence from classmates unable to attend.

Trashword Puzzle

NEW YORK (AP) — Crossword fans who speed through the most difficult newspaper puzzles might be confounded by the clues in a little puzzle printed for garbage collectors.

The puzzle appears in "Sweep," quarterly magazine for 14,000 employes of the city's Sanitation Department. It has been composed for the past nine years by James H. McBurney, the department's deputy chief of staff.

The answers often are simple words but the clues are sanitation shoptalk. McBurney's latest puzzle has such technical clues as "incinerator rating unit" (ton), "snow dumping ring item" (tag), DS auction sale lowest bid price" (upset) and "spreader material" (slag)

Trashword Puzzle

NEW YORK (AP) — Crossword fans who speed through the most difficult newspaper puzzles might be confounded by the clues in a little puzzle printed for garbage collectors.

The puzzle appears in "Sweep," quarterly magazine for 14,000 employes of the city's Sanitation Department. It has been composed for the past nine years by James H. McBurney, the department's deputy chief of staff.

The answers often are simple words but the clues are sanitation shoptalk. McBurney's latest puzzle has such technical clues as "incinerator rating unit" (ton), "snow dumping ring item" (tag), DS auction sale lowest bid price" (upset) and "spreader material" (slag)

NAACP Asks Federal Probe Of Police Brutality In Riot

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, (NAACP) asked Tuesday for a federal investigation of alleged police brutality during last week's racial disturbances in the Glenville area.

William F. Pickard, NAACP executive secretary, and branch President Wendell Irwin said they have asked U. S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey S. Clark, the U. S. Civil Rights Commission and the federal communications commission to investigate.

"The numerous and unjustified and brutal attacks on black citizens will not be tolerated," Irwin said. "Our office has been swamped with people coming in to file complaints of open and brutal attacks on black citizens by policemen."

The FCC is being asked to investigate the alleged use of profanity and degrading remarks over police rado, Pickard said.

Pickard praised Mayor Carl B. Stokes for withdrawing white policemen and National Guard troops from the area Wednesday night, 24 hours after 10 persons were shot to death, including three policemen.

Pickard said the action "prevented a wholesale slaughter of black and white people."

A National Council of Churches executive has sent a telegram to Stokes, describing the handling of last week's racial disturbance as "an example for the entire nation."

Dr. Charles S. Spivey, executive director of the council's Department of Social Justice, said the mayor's decision to withdraw guardsmen and white police from the trouble area was a "significant example of enlightened leadership."

In another development, Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, demanded a special federal grand jury investigation of reports he said he has heard "that militants in Cleveland still retain an arsenal of high powered firearms, including machine guns and a 60 millimeter mortar."

Only 10 elements were known in ancient times.

Bill To Prevent Post Office Job Cuts Clears 2 Hurdles

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to exempt postal workers from a government personnel cutback has cleared two more congressional hurdles en route to probable passage.

The measure zipped through a conference committee and the full Senate Tuesday and was sent to the House today for final action.

There was no debate as the Senate stamped approval on the measure which some members have called "blackmail."

Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson has told Congress that if it does not exempt his 726,400 employes before adjourning for the political conventions, the first in a series of service curtailments will begin Saturday.

These include cutting Saturday window service to a maximum of two hours, putting street box collections on Sunday schedules and closing the first of several hundred fourth class branches.

Under President Johnson's 10 per cent income surtax bill, which includes a $6-billion cut in federal spending, all government agencies must cut back to the June 1966 manpower level by filling only three in every four vacancies.

This would have trimmed the postal staff by more than 83,000 workers at a time when Watson says the Post Office workload is increasing.

The postal department is the first and the largest of almost two dozen government agencies expected to ask Congress to exempt at least 14,000 more people.

The Senate already has approved exemptions for the FBI and for assistant attorneys general.

To Influence Platform Writers

McGovern Rallying Point For Kennedy Supporters

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern has emerged as a rallying point for some supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but mainly to influence the Democratic party position on Vietnam.

The South Dakota Democrat, an outspoken war critic, said in an interview he has rejected suggestions from Kennedy people that he actively seek the presidential nomination at next month's Democratic National Convention because of his own hard re-election race.

"But I have told them if they want to use me as a rallying point, that's okay," McGovern added, observing that "this will give a little more leverage at the convention."

Discusses Platform

It was for this reason that he went to California last weekend to discuss the convention, and especially its platform, with Kennedy supporters.

He called on them for a moral commitment to "passion and action in the service of the nation" and implied that neither Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey nor Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the party's presidential contenders, could do this.

McGovern,, however, made it plain he will support the party nominee.

When asked whether a dark horse such as he might wind up as the nominee, he said this is "a very, very unlikely event."

He did say he would accept a nomination, adding that "anyone in politics who gets as far as the U.S. Senate who says he wouldn't accept the presidential nomination is crazy."

Will Ask To Testify

McGovern said he will probably ask to testify before the convention's platform committee on both farm and Vietnam policy, and added he will work at Chicago to organize delegates to try for "the strongest possible plank on Vietnam, to improve our chances in November and to line up with the mood of the country."

In his Los Angeles speech, he indicated he thought the platform should admit the errors of the Johnson administration's policies."

"I am convinced," he said, "that any president with the will to do it could end the war in Vietnam on terms acceptable to the American people in 60 days."

"It is imperative," the senator went on, "that we nominate a standard-bearer who can run with a clear mind and conscience on our party's platform. That is why I have declined to endorse the candidacy of an old and dear friend—the vice president.

Criticizes McCarthy

Then, in apparent criticism of McCarthy, McGovern attacked "those—some of them candidates for high office—who cannot seem to detect the urgency of the warning, cannot see the bush that has been burning these many years.

"They think American is tired; that it is time to relax; that we need not action and passion but cool philosophy," the senator said, adding "as Robert Kennedy said so often, that is not the road history has marked for us."

McGovern has been designated South Dakota's "favorite son" by the 26-vote delegation Kennedy captured just hours before his assassination. In addition, over 200 of more than 700 undecided Democratic delegates, including the 174 from California, are believed to be Kennedy supporters.

As for the 46-year-old McGovern, a college professor before entering politics, he still intends to devote most of his energy to his second-term fight against former GOP Gov. Archie L. Gubrud.

Although recent polls have shown McGovern well ahead, the state is normally Republican. In addition, the senator may be hurt by the arrest last weekend of his 19-year-old daughter on marijuana possession charges.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about gravy stains on fabrics?

A.—Soak washables in cold water, then wash with soap and water. If a stain still remains when the fabric has dried, sponge with carbon tetrachloride. In the case of unwashables, sponge with stains with cool water, then apply an absorbent, such as fulier's earth, cornstarch, French chalk, or talcum powder—or sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Q.—How can I dispel must clothing odors from closets?

A.—By placing a pan of water, to which some household ammonia has been added, on the closet floor or a shelf.

Q.—How can I prevent wood screws in an outside job from rusting?

A.—By dipping the screws into thinned shellac before driving them into the wood.

Q.—How can I repair small tears in canvas?

A.—The ragged edges can be held down by application of white lead to the under surface. Then tack both edges in place with a large-headed copper tacks close together. Over the joints, apply more white lead, then let this dry. Finally, sandpaper lightly and finish off with several coats of good, heavy, lead-and-oil deck paint.

Q.—How can I cope with weeds that persistently spring up between my patio stones?

A.—Pull the weeds out, then sprinkle the root holes with salt, and your trouble should be over.

Q.—Please suggest a good recipe for a mocha drink.

A.—Mix instant coffee and canned malted-milk powder together with water and milk, heat, then chill.

To Influence Platform Writers

McGovern Rallying Point For Kennedy Supporters

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern has emerged as a rallying point for some supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but mainly to influence the Democratic party position on Vietnam.

The South Dakota Democrat, an outspoken war critic, said in an interview he has rejected suggestions from Kennedy people that he actively seek the presidential nomination at next month's Democratic National Convention because of his own hard re-election race.

"But I have told them if they want to use me as a rallying point, that's okay," McGovern added, observing that "this will give a little more leverage at the convention."

Discusses Platform

It was for this reason that he went to California last weekend to discuss the convention, and especially its platform, with Kennedy supporters.

He called on them for a moral commitment to "passion and action in the service of the nation" and implied that neither Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey nor Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the party's presidential contenders, could do this.

McGovern,, however, made it plain he will support the party nominee.

When asked whether a dark horse such as he might wind up as the nominee, he said this is "a very, very unlikely event."

He did say he would accept a nomination, adding that "anyone in politics who gets as far as the U.S. Senate who says he wouldn't accept the presidential nomination is crazy."

Will Ask To Testify

McGovern said he will probably ask to testify before the convention's platform committee on both farm and Vietnam policy, and added he will work at Chicago to organize delegates to try for "the strongest possible plank on Vietnam, to improve our chances in November and to line up with the mood of the country."

In his Los Angeles speech, he indicated he thought the platform should admit the errors of the Johnson administration's policies."

"I am convinced," he said, "that any president with the will to do it could end the war in Vietnam on terms acceptable to the American people in 60 days."

"It is imperative," the senator went on, "that we nominate a standard-bearer who can run with a clear mind and conscience on our party's platform. That is why I have declined to endorse the candidacy of an old and dear friend—the vice president.

Criticizes McCarthy

Then, in apparent criticism of McCarthy, McGovern attacked "those—some of them candidates for high office—who cannot seem to detect the urgency of the warning, cannot see the bush that has been burning these many years.

"They think American is tired; that it is time to relax; that we need not action and passion but cool philosophy," the senator said, adding "as Robert Kennedy said so often, that is not the road history has marked for us."

McGovern has been designated South Dakota's "favorite son" by the 26-vote delegation Kennedy captured just hours before his assassination. In addition, over 200 of more than 700 undecided Democratic delegates, including the 174 from California, are believed to be Kennedy supporters.

As for the 46-year-old McGovern, a college professor before entering politics, he still intends to devote most of his energy to his second-term fight against former GOP Gov. Archie L. Gubrud.

Although recent polls have shown McGovern well ahead, the state is normally Republican. In addition, the senator may be hurt by the arrest last weekend of his 19-year-old daughter on marijuana possession charges.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about gravy stains on fabrics?

A.—Soak washables in cold water, then wash with soap and water. If a stain still remains when the fabric has dried, sponge with carbon tetrachloride. In the case of unwashables, sponge with stains with cool water, then apply an absorbent, such as fuller's earth, cornstarch, French chalk, or talcum powder—or sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Q.—How can I dispel must clothing odors from closets?

A.—By placing a pan of water, to which some household ammonia has been added, on the closet floor or a shelf.

Q.—How can I prevent wood screws in an outside job from rusting?

A.—By dipping the screws into thinned shellac before driving them into the wood.

Q.—How can I repair small tears in canvas?

A.—The ragged edges can be held down by application of white lead to the under surface. Then tack both edges in place with a large-headed copper tacks close together. Over the joints, apply more white lead, then let this dry. Finally, sandpaper lightly and finish off with several coats of good, heavy, lead-and-oil deck paint.

Q.—How can I cope with weeds that persistently spring up between my patio stones?

A.—Pull the weeds out, then sprinkle the root holes with salt, and your trouble should be over.

A.—Mix instant coffee and canned malted-milk powder together with water and milk, heat, then chill.

Junior Editors Quiz on HOURS

QUESTION: Why are there 60 minutes in an hour?

ANSWER: The ancient Egyptians thought of a huge goddess, Nut, arching over the sky and carrying the sun (symbolized by the three discs) over the earth by day. At night, the sun was supposed to be carried back to the east by boat. The ancients had observed that the year had about 360 days and that the time between full moons was roughly 30 days. Twelve such moon periods made 360, about the same as the number of days in a year. The ancients concluded there was something magic about the number 360, and when they came to divide a circle in parts, they gave it 360 divisions or degrees. They had become used to figuring small units in 10s and 60s, so when they came to dividing the degree, they gave it 60 parts. The Romans called these "partes minutae primae," or first small parts, and from this came our word minute. The minute was then divided into "partes minutae secundae," or second small parts, shortened to seconds. At first, the hours were not strictly divided during the 24-hour period, daytime hours being longer than night ones. But with the later use of mechanical clocks, astronomers regulated the hours and divided them as the ancients had divided the circle. So we had 60 minutes in an hour and 60 seconds in a minute.
